Philadelphia Left Out in the Cold.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in connection with the Camden and Amboy road, have completed their new road around the city of Philadelphia, commencing at the present terminus of the Central road in West Philadelphia. From to-day through trains will run direct between Jersey City and Pittsburgh, making only a temporary halt in West Philadelphia. There will be no change of cars, and the same time will be made as by the Allentown route. A silver palace car will run over this route, direct from New York to Cincinnati. The evening train is announced to leave this city at 7:20 instead of 10 o'clock as heretofore. In connection with this we may mention the fact, that Philadelphia city is now left out in the cold as regards through passenger trains, either from New York city to Pittsburgh, or between New York and Baltimore and the South. None of the trains now touch at Philadelphia, and some of the Baltimore trains refuse to take passengers to the station opposite the city.

Election Returns of 1866.

Subjoined will be found a table of election returns for Governor, giving the official vote of each county in the State. The table will be found useful for comparison during the week:

STATE NEWS.

Governor Geary has appointed Reuben Guth, a well known editor of Allentown, an associate judge of Lehigh county, vice Longnecker, declined.

The fall session of Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg opened on Monday, with an addition of forty-five new students, being the largest accession of new students since the organization.

On Wednesday last, Noah Jones, son of Noah Jones, Sr., of Fellowfield township, Washington county, was thrown from his horse near the bridge at Colvin's. His feet caught in the stirrup, and he was dragged along for several rods before he could be disengaged. The boy's head was terribly mashed, his arm broken and his body otherwise severely injured in several places, so that at last advices his life was despaired of.

Mr. George Cookman, a member of the Commercial Exchange, and formerly Secretary of that body, died suddenly at his residence in Philadelphia on Monday night. He was an active and prominent member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

As the small steamer Native was returning to Brownsville on the 28th ult., she encountered and ran into the steamer Franklin at McGill's Landing, near Monongahela City, when a young man, by the name of Samuel Taylor Pastories, fell from the guards of the boat and was drowned. He was employed as a deck hand, and it is supposed that he swam some six hundred yards from the place where he first fell into the water; but, owing to the fog, he could not find the shore. He was found on Friday floating on the water at McGill's Landing.

At a recent meeting of the Erie county Medical Society reports of several interesting surgical and medical cases were presented, and a general discussion by different members of the Society ensued on practice and treatment. Dr. Wallace introduced a resolution accompanied by a very important memorial regarding the supply of water for the city of Erie. It was resolved that the appointment of any member of this Society, shall make such member a "de facto" delegate from this Society to State Medical Society.

While a little negro sweep was engaged in cleaning a chimney at the Marine National Bank, in Erie, on Thursday, some thoughtless person kindled a fire in a stove. The hot air and smoke instantly strangled the boy, who let go his hold in the chimney, and fell to the bottom of the flue, a distance of several feet. The lad was quickly extricated, but he died Friday morning from the effects of inhaling hot air.

Stealing oil well machinery, from bolts and wrenches to entire engines, has been, and is still epidemical throughout the Venango Oil Region. Steam gauges, belting, tubing, rope, etc., has disappeared in immense quantities, despite the watchfulness of their owners.

George Hoover, who was arrested at Enon last week for horse stealing, and was in the custody of Constable Huey, of Little Beaver, to lodge him in the jail of Beaver county, escaped on Saturday last near Mount Jackson. It appears that they were in a buggy together, when the prisoner put his arms around the constable, warmly embracing him. A tussel was the result, during which Mr. Huey's revolver fell out of his pocket to the ground, the parties also falling out of the buggy. The horse ran away smashing up the buggy completely, and the prisoner got away uninjured. He is still at large.

A little son of Abraham Gibson, Esq., was playing with his hoop, on Haines street, Oil City, on Sunday evening last, near the deep cut of the Warren and Franklin Railway, and by some means fell over the bank, alighting on the track below, a distance of some thirty feet, striking the back part of his head upon a sharp stone. His skull was badly crushed. He is still alive, but faint hopes are entertained of his recovery.

On Thursday morning a fire occurred in Corry on the corner of Concord and Pleasant streets, by which the house of Mr. Owens and the furniture shop of Mr. Manly were consumed. The origin of the fire is unknown, as it was first discovered near the roof of the buildings. The loss is about $4,000. No insurance.

Judge Abell, counsel for Henry Smith, accused of perjury, filed an exception at New Orleans, on Thursday. The case is being tried before Recorder Dunn, of the Second District Court. Dunn is the negro who was lately elected by the new council. Judge Abell, in his exception, sets forth that Dunn, being a negro, is unrecognized by the laws of Louisiana as a citizen, and hence is not legally an officer of justice. Dunn overruled the exception, tried the case, and discharged the prisoner. The prosecuting witness refused to take the stand or to be sworn while a negro was acting as Recorder. He was asked if he intended to insult the Court, when he replied that he did, and he was fined $25.

Additional particulars of the riot at Jefferson City, Louisiana, shows that an ex-rebel named Rolland commenced a general onslaught with a revolver on the colored people at the polls, assisted by a few of his political friends. The negroes were badly wounded, but the rest of the crowd returned the fire, killing Rolland and dangerously wounding one of his co-rioters. The military soon arrived on the ground and quieted the matter.

Returns from thirty-four counties in Alabama, about half the State, show that the convention has eleven thousand more votes than the requisite half.

No Reduction of the Public Debt in September.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5, 1867.

Maryland's Quota of Arms.

Official copies are published to-day of the correspondence between the authorities of Maryland and the War Department, in reference to the application made by the Governor for commuting for ordnance and ordnance stores the quota of arms due the State. It appears that Mr. Stanton did not refuse such commutation as would not exceed the amount due to Maryland, but that General Grant expressed a doubt whether the law authorized him to issue all arms of one kind, and that he still has the matter under consideration. This fully confirms the statement originally appearing in these dispatches.

The Revenue Commissionership.

The quarrel over the Revenue Commissionership, created by the removal of Messmore, is becoming very bitter. It is estimated that the candidates and their friends who have arrived here within two days will number fifty men. Charges and counter charges against each other are made by the applicants. Thurlow Weed is reported by these office-seekers as in town, at a private residence. If true, he has not shown his face at the White House or Treasury Department.

A. H. Stephens.

The President has not yet fully considered the application for pardon of Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia. The papers are now on file at the Executive Mansion, and will be again taken up by the President next week. He is strongly recommended for Executive clemency, and there seems to be no doubt that the pardon will be issued.

The War Office.

The city has a rumor to-day that General Sherman, who is expected in Washington to-morrow, is called here to take charge of the War Department. There is no reason to give credence to the report.

The Public Debt.

The public debt statement for September is out to-day, but shows no reduction in the sum total.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 6, 1867.

Lieut. Gen. Sherman.

General Sherman arrived this morning in accordance with a telegram sent to him on Thursday by the President. The papers here mention a rumor to-day that he has been summoned to take General Grant's place in the War Department, but official authority is furnished for contradiction of the story.

General Sherman had an interview with the President to-day, and this evening called on General Grant. Rumors are plenty that General Sherman is called here to meet some expected emergency, and the fact that the President's order for his presence was not sent through General Grant, as required by a recent act of Congress, is cited to sustain the stories.

The Dismal Swamp Canal.

Col. Parker, of Grant's staff, has been detailed to make a survey of the Dismal Swamp canal.

The Louisiana Election.

Advices of a trustworthy character have been received here which show that the Louisiana convention has been called by a majority of about seventy thousand votes, though it appears that at least twenty thousand of the registered votes were not cast.

Revenue for October.

The Internal Revenue Bureau estimates that the returns for October will be more than double those for September.

The Vacant Commissionership.

Among the names which are being pressed for the vacant Deputy Commissionership in the Internal Revenue Bureau, are ex-Collector Spooner, of Cincinnati, and Governor Gibbs, of Idaho. There are hosts of applicants from New York city.

For Cabinet Consideration.

The application of Alex. H. Stephens for pardon, and that of Col. Belger for reinstatement in the regular army, will, it is understood, be brought before the Cabinet on Tuesday. There appears to be no doubt but that the first one will be granted.

Fitz John Porter's Case.

The case of General Fitz John Porter, for a new trial, has not been decided by the Attorney General—that is, the legal points which were referred to him by the President.

The Ecuador Mission.

The vacant mission to Ecuador is still unfilled, but it seems very probable that as heretofore it will be given to Ohio in the person of Ex-Governor Ford.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5, 1867.

GENERAL BUTLER AND THE FINANCES.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune sends the following from Washington: "General Butler's recent letters on the public finances are creating a good deal of comment here among the Treasury officials and financial men generally. Secretary McCulloch and Assistant Secretary Chandler have been overrun with parties who are particularly interested, and who are anxious to obtain their views on Butler's ideas. It is stated here, on the authority of a prominent Treasury official, that when Gen. Butler had written his first letters he was asked if he did not fear that it would hurt our securities in Europe. He replied that he hoped it would, as he was opposed to the present financial policy of the Government, and he had prepared a bill, taking as his text his two published letters, which he will introduce in Congress early in the next session."

SPECIAL REVENUE COMMISSIONER.

The Special Commissioner of the Revenue, Hon. David A. Wells, leaves Washington to-day under instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury to visit and confer with the Boards of Trade, the Revenue officials and the representatives of the leading industrial interests of the West, with a view of better ascertaining the condition of trade, industry, revenue administration and the requirements for future commercial legislation. The Commissioner proposes to be in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo and Detroit next week, and Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis and other points subsequently.

A REPORT CONTRADICTED.

General Grant contradicts the statement published a few days since that during an interview with several Republican Congressmen he said if it was the will of Providence or the desire of the American people that he should become President, he would not resist the one or disappoint the other. He has been characteristically reticent on this point, and has too much reverence, to desire even to insinuate that he has the power to resist the will of Providence.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The statement that General Grant has refused to revive the consideration of claims against the War Department, which were refused by Secretaries Stanton and Cameron, is untrue. He has reversed several orders issued by them, and has ordered the reopening of several cases unfavorably passed upon by his predecessors.

THE PRESIDENT'S LINE OF DEFENSE.

A New York letter to the Charleston Courier, says: It is well-known among a certain class of men that Mr. Johnson, during more than a year past, has carefully collected all the speeches, and even parts of speeches, made by Republican and Democratic Senators in reference to the impeachment question. For that purpose, a corps of the very best of our city stenographers have been constantly on the wing, following in the track of the itinerant Senators, and making transcripts of these speeches, apparently for publication in a leading New York journal, but really to serve as a powerful weapon in the hands of the President whenever the opportune moment shall have arrived. It is, I understand, the intention of Mr. Johnson, in the event of articles of impeachment being sent to the Senate, to boldly declare that he will not be tried by Senators who have declared themselves either in favor or against his impeachment. He takes the ground that the meanest criminal in the country, even when tried upon a charge of petty larceny, has the right to challenge his jurors. And he claims, with a good deal of sound reasoning, that in all important matters like this, it is simply due to justice that his judges should not be men who have prejudged his case. In fine, that he will not be tried by judges who hold him guilty even before the trial has commenced. The moment matters are approaching this crisis, the stenographers who, during the past year, have been taking down the Senatorial speeches, directly or indirectly alluding to impeachment, will be summoned to Washington, and be called upon to swear to the correctness of their reports now in the President's possession. Among the judges against whom special exceptions will be taken by Mr. Johnson are Senators Howard, Thayer, Nye, Sumner, Wade and Chandler.

MORE RUMORS OF CABINET CHANGES—PROBABLE EARLY RETIREMENT OF SECRETARY MC'CULLOCH.

So many statements have been made recently in reference to the retirement of the Cabinet officers, and rumors are still so plentiful, that it seems almost useless to give them any notice. Some of these statements are plausible, without any apparent foundation in fact; some simply absurd, and occasionally one is found bearing all the evidence of truth, which comes from such a trustworthy source as to gain the belief of even the most wary. It is asserted again that Secretary McCulloch is certainly about to leave the Cabinet, and the statement comes from a quarter not likely to be deceived in such matters. It is said that before the present month expires the resignation of Secretary McCulloch will be tendered and accepted, and that the office will be offered to Thomas Ewing, Sen. It is also stated, though not by the same authority, that Mr. Ewing will decline the appointment, with the understanding that the position will be given to his son, Thomas Ewing, Jr.

To the above we append the following from a New York letter: The further decline in American securities abroad, together with reports from Washington, this afternoon, that the President has determined to call General Sherman to the War Department, is creating a very despondent feeling in business circles, which the "bears" are doing their utmost, for ulterior purposes, to aggravate. Even if it be true that General Sherman is going to take General Grant's place in the Cabinet, it does not follow that it is an indication of trouble, inasmuch as it is well known here among General Grant's friends that he has been anxious for some time past to retire from the Cabinet, and has so notified the President repeatedly.

DEPRECIATION OF OUR BONDS IN EUROPE.

The tenor of all official information from Europe is to the effect that the recent speeches on finance are being used by speculators and parties hostile to the United States, with the greatest industry, and with considerable effect in depreciating our national credit; that United States bonds have fallen very considerably, mainly through these influences within the last few weeks, and that Reuter's telegram has manifested the utmost alacrity in disseminating reports concerning our finances bearing the worst constructions, and even an absurd rumor has found its way into Europe and has gained considerable credence, that the November interest on bonds is to be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury in greenbacks instead of gold. To these statements and reports an official reply has been furnished, that practically an expression on this subject is useless, as no one reasonably doubts that even with a moderate degree of prosperity the paper currency of the United States will be on a par with gold long before the time the gold bearing securities of the United States shall be presented for payment, the first issue of 5-20 bonds having yet about fourteen years to run, therefore it is insisted the present discussion as to whether the bonds are payable in gold or not leads to no practical good.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

The Printing Bureau of the Treasury Department is printing fractional currency to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars daily, that amount being necessary to replace defaced currency returned for redemption.

SENOR ROMERO.

Senor Romero yesterday took leave of the President, and subsequently called at the State Department to present Senor Mareschal, Secretary of Legation, as Charge d'Affairs of the Mexican Republic.

MANSFIELD, OHIO.

Man Killed by Falling from a Train When in Motion.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MANSFIELD, O., October 5, 1867.

A man was found dead this morning one and a half miles east of Orrville, on the track of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway. The appearance of his body indicates that he fell from the train while in motion, his head striking a tie, crashing in his skull. From papers found on his body, it appears that his name was Augustine McCormick, and that his mother lives in Cambridge, Maryland. He was not missed from the morning express train going east, on which it is supposed he was a passenger.

THE INDIANS.

Movements of the Indian Commissioners—The Council in November.

ST. LOUIS, October 6.—The Indian Peace Commissioners left here this afternoon for Fort Harker. General Augur, who has been appointed on this Commission during General Sherman's absence in Washington, left Omaha to-day and will join the party en route.

The steamer "Only Chance," from Fort Benton, Montana, arrived at Omaha Friday night, with three millions in treasure and two hundred passengers. The Indians had stolen some horses from the Northwestern Fur Company, near Fort Buford, and killed three men.

The latest information received from Superintendent Murphy, who is in charge of the Indians already assembled at Medicine Lodge creek, where he remains as a sort of hostage, is of the following purport: "Little Robe," "Medicine Arrow," "Bull Bear," "Tall Bull," and "White Horse," Chiefs of the Unruly Dog soldiers, have promised to come in. One of the runners employed by Mr. Murphy left Little Robe's village September 28th, and he had just arrived. He promised to come in to the council, and said that he had been out on the last raid that he would make. Little Robe had about 250 warriors with him, and had returned from committing depredations on the railroad. Mr. Murphy further telegraphs that "Roman Nose" had been in to see him, and went away promising to be present at the council.

A dispatch was received yesterday from Mr. Beanvis, dated Fort Laramie, stating that Iron Shell, a Brute Sioux, had come into that place with all his people. He had since left, but he promised to be back in time for the council to be held at Laramie in November. Not a word has been heard from Red Cloud, and there are no assurances that this hostile chief will come into the council.

Sixty-eight thousand three hundred and ten acres of public land were entered at the Denver Land Office in September.

Extensive preparations were making for holding an agricultural fair at Denver this week.

COLUMBUS, O.

Speech of Chief Justice Chase.

COLUMBUS, O., October 6.—Hon. Salmon P. Chase arrived here last night and was enthusiastically received by the citizens. He made the following speech:

FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS: This greeting takes me entirely by surprise. I came to Ohio to perform some private duties, and one public duty. I have avoided as far as possible, for I thought myself bound to avoid, all public demonstrations. In the position which I occupy, I am not at liberty to take an active part in a political canvass—I have my opinions, however, as a man and as a citizen, and it would be mere affectation if on an occasion like this I should refrain from saying that I abide in the faith and cherish the sympathies you have so often heard me avow. I am not, as you know, a man given to change; my vote, therefore, on Tuesday next will be given for the candidates of the great party whose proud distinction is that it demands equal rights and exact justice to all men, and insist on maintaining inviolate the public faith. My whole political life and my whole public conduct pledge me to this, and I rejoice in the belief that the noble people whom it has been my pride to serve in days not long past will, on the one hand, sternly refuse their sanction to any violation of national contracts, and on the other generously extend the right of suffrage to all men to whom it is at present unjustly denied. With these few words, and thanking you again and again for the kindness of your welcome to-night, and for the kindness with which you have followed me ever since I entered public life, you will now permit me to bid you good night.

RICHMOND.

Candidates for Convention—Woman Sentenced—Trial of Jeff. Davis—Distilling.

RICHMOND, October 5.—It is understood that the colored voters here have agreed to run three whites and two blacks for the Convention. Messrs. Hunnicutt and Wardwell are two whites most prominently named. A Republican negro meeting in Henry nominated G. L. Swann for the Convention, throwing out an ex-Federal Colonel, who was a candidate for nomination.

Mrs. Annie E. Kirby, on trial for the murder of her husband, has been convicted and sentenced to seven years in the Penitentiary.

The trial of Davis will certainly take place in November. Counsel on both sides are ready. He is expected to arrive here about the 25th of October.

The distillers around Richmond last month turned out 20,000 gallons of whisky, while in July last they only distilled 5,000 gallons.

The Revolution in Italy.

Papal Troops Defeated by Insurgents.

ADDRESS FROM GEN. GARIBALDI.

Fenian Rising Feared in London.

General Arming of France.

Apprehensions of a Winter Campaign.

Papal Troops Defeated.

LONDON, October 4, Midnight.—Latest dispatches just received from Florence announce that the insurgent troops holding a strong position near Bagnarea, in Viterbo, were attacked by a Papal force. A short and sharp fight resulted in the defeat of the attacking party, who were obliged hastily to withdraw. Losses not stated. The effect of this victory is very inspiriting to the party of action.

Meeting of Revolutionists.

A public meeting of the friends of Garibaldi was held at Turin yesterday. Revolutionary speeches were made by many distinguished persons. Meetings of a like character are in contemplation in other cities of Italy.

Address from Garibaldi.

Though a prisoner at Caprera, Garibaldi has issued a stirring address to his followers, which was published to-day. He recites at length the grievances of Italy, and asks his countrymen to redress them now. He appeals strongly to their patriotism, and urges all his friends to march forthwith to Rome.

A Fenian Scare.

LONDON, October 5.—Late yesterday afternoon advices were received by the authorities to the effect that an attack by Fenians on one of the armories in this city might be expected during the night. Government troops were accordingly posted at the different armories, and other precautionary measures also taken, which prevented the threatened outbreak.

The Glasgow Failure.

GLASGOW, October 5, Evening.—It is reported that Buchanan & Co., of this city, recently announced as having failed, will be fully able to pay all indebtedness.

Arming of France.

LONDON, October 5, Evening.—The Standard of this city, in its leading article this morning, says the general arming of France is exciting apprehensions of a winter campaign.

A Prize Fight Interrupted.

PHILADELPHIA, October 6.—The police of the first district having received information that a prize fight was to take place near this city this morning, repaired to the locality and found a number of men engaged in preparing a ring. The crowd took the alarm and started on a run, but the police pursued and succeeded in capturing twenty-one persons and locked them up for a hearing. All but five succeeded in procuring bail and were released. The principals are supposed to have escaped with the crowd, which was too far off for the police to reach.

Arrival from Liverpool.

NEW YORK, October 6, 1867.

The steamship City of Boston, from Liverpool on the 25th ult., passed Sandy Hook at 1:15 P. M., and will be up in the course of the night.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Gallagher and Davis, Cleveland bruisers, fought a prize fight on Fighting Island, seven miles from Detroit, Saturday. Davis won in the forty-fifth round, knocking Gallagher out of time. The latter had the best of the fight till the last round.

Hon. C. C. Shales, one of the pioneers of Wisconsin, and for many years President of the Northwestern Telegraph Company, died in Kenosha on Saturday.

The corner stone of a soldiers' monument to be erected in the National Cemetery on Hampton creek, Va., was laid on Saturday. The cemetery at Yorktown and smaller ones in the vicinity of Suffolk, Norfolk and Portsmouth are being rapidly broken up and the bodies re-interred in Hampton Cemetery, which, when finally completed, will contain about ten thousand bodies.

There were four hundred and seventy-one deaths in New York during the past week.

Mrs. Avonia Jones Brooke, the actress, died in New York Friday evening.

A serious accident occurred on the Pennsylvania Northern Central Railroad at Millersburg on Friday morning. The up and down express trains collided, injuring the locomotives and scattering the baggage in every direction. A colored boy from Harrisburg was killed. A few passengers received slight contusions.

Ten Government steamers were offered at auction at Philadelphia on Saturday. The Mackinaw brought $17,500, the Genesee $14,400, and the Mingo $16,000. The others were withdrawn.

The fractional currency issued for the week from the Printing Bureau amounted to $524,000; sent out, $578,924; redeemed and destroyed, $337,000; National Bank notes issued, $43,346; Internal Revenue receipts, $6,571,597; receipts for fiscal year to date, $61,313,860.

Mrs. Lincoln has gone to Chicago. Only two hundred dollars were raised by the sale of her goods Saturday. The people are disgusted with her behavior, and are slow to make purchases.

The Herald's Montreal special says: A great fire is raging in the town of St. Johns, near Rouse's Point. It is reported that half of the town is destroyed. The authorities of St. Johns have telegraphed here for engines and firemen, which have been promptly sent by a special train.

CHOLERA RIOTS IN ITALY.

Demoniacal Superstition and Ignorance.

The cholera riots in Italy still continue. In the Neapolitan provinces the disturbances are serious. At Amalfi, and in the provinces of Avellino and Potenza, serious tumults have broken out. At Tolve, in the province of Potenza, a most deplorable tragedy has lately been enacted. After the cholera had broken out in the place, a rumor somehow got abroad accusing a man named Antonio Savellino as the cause of promulgating the disease. An armed and furious band of individuals, intent on vengeance, marched to the unfortunate man's house, which they broke into, when, during their search (on the scent after poison, which they supposed to be hidden somewhere out of sight) they by mishap placed their hands on a pot of paste, which Savellino had prepared for the destruction of rats. "Here is the poison! We have it! We have found it! We have found it! There cannot any longer be a doubt of it!" yelled frantically the human fiend who had just then caught sight of the paste-pot. Some portion of its contents was in an instant given to a dog, who naturally soon after died from the effects of the poison.

This was the signal for the immediate massacre of three unfortunate creatures—Savellino, and two of his companions, chance visitors who, as well as himself, were forthwith fiercely butchered by the crowd, the latter as the supposed accomplices to the "Poisoning Infamy" of which Savellino was accused. The few carabineers stationed within the town were unable to make head against the maddened and indignant crowd, who, after this fearful deed had been enacted, declared their intention of ruling by mob law "for a week."

During the confusion and agitation incident upon such an event troops arrived from Potenza. But the city gates had been closed, and the angry populace were preparing to fire through the loop-holes in the wall on the troops, when a spirited young officer (Captain Juelli, of the Royal Carabineers), espying a by-road into the town, rode in at full gallop and brought himself up right on the rear of the mob. Taken thus suddenly by surprise, admiration at this single man's bravery burst at once from the crowd, who cheered him, uttering the cry of "Viva Vittorio Emanuele!" and afterwards dispersed, thus making an end to the tumult.

The next day several of the officers of justice came over from Potenza, and made thirty-nine arrests among the principal and most daring of the rioters. At Leone, in the province of Avellino, the people, under the supposition that a certain fountain had been poisoned, tumultuously insisted on a public analysis of its waters. At Messina the cholera continued to afflict the population. Most of the higher official authorities in the city have fallen victims to the disease. Baron Natoli, whose life has long been in jeopardy from the same cause, is at length out of danger.

The Markets—Latest Mexican News—Mr. Otterburg in Havana.

HAVANA, October 5.—Exchange unchanged; gold, long 7¼. Sugar quiet and unchanged. Provisions unchanged.

Dates are received from the city of Mexico to the 28th ultimo, and from Vera Cruz to the 2d inst. Funeral ceremonies over fallen heroes and a grand military review were to take place at Vera Cruz on the first, second and third of October. Rafael Garrira was made Governor and military commander of the State of Puebla on the 21st ult.

Mr. Otterburg has arrived here from Mexico.

HAVANA, October 6.—A late arrival from Vera Cruz brings the following news: Father Arcisa has been consecrated Bishop of Molina.

The wife of Santa Anna petitioned President Juarez for the release of her husband without trial.

Baron Von Magnus, Prussian Ambassador, has returned to the City of Mexico. General Pavor has been appointed Governor of Tamaulipas, and General Antillon has been made Governor of Guanajuato.

The property of Somera was not confiscated as reported, but he has been fined $50,000.

Seven houses in the City of Mexico owned by Almonte, Ramirez, Silicio, Culderia, Uraga and others have been confiscated by the Government, and will be sold at auction. Their aggregate value is appraised at $100,000.

From Savannah.

SAVANNAH, GA., October 6.—The heavy freshet at Live Oak has washed away the track of the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad in several places. The train due this morning has not yet arrived.

At Charleston the weather is cool and bracing. The heavy rains in Florida still continue.

Grand Welcome to Sheridan in Boston.

BOSTON, October 6.—There is every indication that a grand popular welcome will be extended to Gen. Sheridan to-morrow, in which the people generally will participate. The banks and many business houses will be closed, and the school children will have a holiday. The military display will probably exceed anything of the kind ever seen in Boston.

Death from Yellow Fever at Springfield, Mass.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., October 6.—Jno. Hillsley, a man about forty years of age, died in this city of yellow fever. He was from Memphis, Tenn., en route to Nova Scotia, and arrived here last night.

Acquitted.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., October 6.—Dr. Thos. J. Gardner, indicted with Dr. J. Edward Turner, for burning the Inebriate asylum in this city, after a four days' trial has been acquitted. This also clears Turner.

Man Drowned—Fire.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., October 5.—Russell Parker, lately of Canada, was accidentally drowned this afternoon.

The Burnett House and five adjoining buildings, were burned on Friday. Loss $10,000.

The Fell Destroyer in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, October 5.—The deaths from yellow fever during the twenty-four hours ending this morning numbered fifty-nine.

Rains in Georgia.

SAVANNAH, October 5.—The weather is cold and raining. In Western Georgia it is very gloomy, heavy rains being reported.

FROM BEAVER, PA.

The County Fair a Success—A Brief Description—Awards to Agricultural Implements—An Exciting Race.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

BEAVER, PA., October 5, 1867.

The Beaver County Agricultural Society, held its annual Fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 2d, 3d and 4th insts. The weather continued pleasant throughout, but dust, in liberal quantities, the result of protracted drought, was a prominent feature of the occasion. The display of articles on exhibition, which continued to arrive until Thursday, ten o'clock, was perhaps equal in numbers to other County Fairs, and certainly had the advantage of superiority in quality. The brass band employed by the Society to contribute to the enjoyment of the occasion was from Brush Creek, and not from Harmony, and formerly under the instructions of Ferdinand Winters, of Pittsburgh, as was currently reported on the grounds.

FLORAL HALL

Presented considerable attraction, being tastefully festooned with evergreens, hanging baskets, oil paintings, natural and artificial flowers and articles from the various departments of art. But a marked feature in the regulations of the society the present year, and one that appears noteworthy, is, that the "lords of creation" asserted their supremacy, and ladies were ruled out of committees, even in this department, and the judging of needle and fancy work, executed by the fair ladies of the county. It is not a matter of surprise that they should monopolize the business of judging the pantry stores, since we concede that they are very sensitive to a good dinner, and consequently competent to decide the merits of bread, butter, honey, preserves, jellies, cake, wines, &c.

Various kinds of very fine fruit were exhibited by residents of the county. As usual, Messrs. J. W. Elliott & Sons, Nurserymen and Florists, of Pittsburgh, had a fine representation in this department, comprising bouquets, hanging baskets, gold fish, and a fine assortment of fruits.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS

Were mainly from the manufactories in Rochester, Pa. "The Pittsburgh National Plow Company" had two riding cultivators, for the cultivation of corn, and about twenty different styles of plows, some of which are improved implements and a source of congratulation to the agricultural community. On several of their wares they took premiums, and one plow, especially that attracted attention, for breaking heavy sod, was finely finished with caststeel mouldboard.

A. B. Smith & Co.'s manufactory of Rochester, Pa., was represented by a threshing machine, mower, separator and cleaner, corn sheller, lever horse power, revolving horse rake, and a dog churn, mostly of his own invention, all of which are valuable acquisitions to the farming interests.

W. J. McGeorge had on exhibition the "Etna Mower," from the Etna Manufactory of Salem, Ohio, which, at the Solon trial, cut one-half an acre in sixteen minutes.

Whisler & Stahl, of Bowlsville, Beaver county, had on exhibition a threshing machine, (one horse power,) of their own construction, with capacity for threshing one hundred bushels of wheat per day. They also took the first award on a double knife straw cutter, Holmes's patent.

James Patterson entered the Buckeye Reaper, which is also a combined machine, and as such was awarded the first premium at the State Fair.

L. G. Kniffen, the inventor, exhibited a complete model of a mowing machine, which from its perfect neatness of construction attracted much notice. It took the first premium at the late State Fair.

HORSES AND THE RACES.

A full representation of very fine animals would have redeemed deficiencies in other departments, had they existed, and sustain Pennsylvania's reputation for producing, and being the head market for noble horses, which must be owing to geographical adaptation, the hills, rocks and minerals producing an atmosphere favorable to the growth of hardy, solid fibre.

An exciting pacing race took place on the race track on Friday afternoon. The entries were Shakopee, owned by Captain D. M. Donehoo, of Beaver; Lady Scott, owned by Mr. Holliday, of Pittsburgh, and Crazy Jane, owned by W. Cunningham, of Wellsville. A start was made about two o'clock, Crazy Jane having the pole, Lady Scott next, Shakopee following two or three lengths in the rear. However, he soon closed up the gap, passing the others at the quarter pole at a slashing gait, gradually increasing the distance between them to the end of the mile. Had there been a distance pole up his owner might with propriety have claimed the race on the first heat. The track was very heavy, the dust in some places being three or four inches in depth. Time of heat 2:54. The second and third heats were taken by Donehoo's horse in 2:54 and 2:58, and had he been pushed in either of the heats could have done it in ten seconds less. The betting before starting was largely against Shakopee, but after the first mile it was a "horse to a hen" on him with no takers. Taking it all in all this was the most exciting race that ever took place on the grounds of the society, and afforded great sport for the thousands of spectators who witnessed it. Mr. Alcorn's horse took the trotting race.

CATTLE.

The few that were on the grounds were considered good specimens of Devon, Durham, and other fine breeds, and proved conclusively that there are some farmers in Beaver county who take pride in the superiority of their cattle.

Altogether, the Fair was a great success, especially financially. On Thursday the number of persons in attendance was estimated from ten to fifteen thousand, and the attendance on Friday was also large. The Society will doubtless realize a sufficient sum from the exhibition to prosecute the work on the lodge for the keeper of the grounds, the foundation of which is already erected. LINWOOD.

Wellsville, Ohio, as a Manufacturing Point.

The attention of capitalists is now being directed to the importance of Wellsville, Ohio, as an iron manufacturing point, and the citizens of that place are agitating the question of raising a company, subscribing the means, and erecting furnaces for the manufacture of pig iron. The only way to invite capital there is for the citizens themselves to establish such works as will manifest their faith in the success of new manufacturing projects. The Wellsville Union, in referring to the future prospects of the place, says: "The prediction of some of our citizens that there were large deposits of iron and coal of proper quality in our immediate neighborhood, has been verified through the perseverance and liberality of Mr. E. K. Collins, of New York. We are all aware that this enterprising gentleman bought a large tract of land on Big Yellow Creek, and paid, as was then thought, a most extravagant price for it. But the result will prove his wisdom. He has, this season, gone to the very heavy expense of benching his hill from the bottom to the top, and has opened to the eyes of man the astounding result of nineteen feet of coal seams of excellent quality, from thirty inch seams to six feet thick, and some twenty feet of the best quality of iron ore, that, by analysis, yields from forty to sixty per cent. of iron, of a very superior quality, and in regular seams, from twelve inches up to six feet thick—nine different varieties, with an abundance of limestone in the same hill. He has gone to the expense of having everything analyzed by different chemists of the highest standing in their profession, and the most practical iron masters agree that, considering the location, the result is far superior to any other in North America. These are facts which speak for themselves, and any person can go and see the quantity of the materials with his own eyes. There is no doubt that other properties in the neighborhood are as rich in mineral resources as that of Mr. Collins. We learn that some of the best and most experienced iron masters in this county have been out to examine this property, and they all say that they have never seen anything equal to it at any place within this or in any other county. When we consider that this place is situated on a line of railroad, only 50 miles from Pittsburgh, and 50 miles from Wheeling—another great iron mart—and only 95 miles from Cleveland, on the lakes, and alongside the great Ohio river—it is truly strange that this thing has been so long neglected."

Eighty Thousand Francs Royalty to a Piano Firm.

The International Jury has, I believe, certified to their having given the first medal to Steinway & Sons; while their having disposed of the right to manufacture on their system in France for a royalty of 80,000 francs per annum, has added to their before great reputation here, so that among the general public as well as in the artistic world, the Steinway is the lion of the time, and has served to give America a position in art that has never before been accorded to her.

We can well understand that the old Chickering establishment feels sore at being beaten in a fair contest by its American confreres, but should have supposed that a wiser policy would have led them to accept the situation and "acknowledge beat."—Paris Correspondent of the Chicago Republican.

After this signal triumph over the only piano which could venture to make a show of opposition to the great house of Steinway & Son, it is presumable that none other will undertake to dispute their proud and well-earned title of the "First Piano Manufacturers of the World."

The agents in this city, Kleber & Bro., 122 Wood street, inform us that they find it difficult, even during the dull summer months, to supply the demand for these marvellous instruments.

CITY MATTERS.

ANOTHER EXPRESS ROUTE OPEN.—The Merchants' Union Express Company has made arrangements to carry express goods over the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad and branches, and after this date will receive goods for Cleveland and all intermediate points, and in a few days will extend its operations to Wheeling and Bellair.

FIRE AND RUNAWAY.—The alarm of fire about half-past eight o'clock on Saturday evening from Box No. 31, corner of Wylie and Fulton streets, was caused by a slight fire in the two-story brick house, owned by Wm. Sims, located on Pasture alley, near Fulton street. It appears that a man named Wm. Zemmers was lighting a lamp in the lower part of the house, when from some cause the lamp exploded, and set fire to some upholstery in the sitting room. The fire communicated to the wood work, but was extinguished before much damage had been done. The loss will amount to about one hundred dollars.

The horse attached to the Independence hose carriage, while returning from the fire on Wylie street, took fright and ran off at a terrible gait. The carriage came in collision with a lamp post at the corner of Chatham street, breaking off the lamp post, badly smashing the carriage and injuring two or three firemen who were on the carriage. The frightened horse was soon after caught.

Another Distillery Libel—A Brewery with Several Owners.

A short time since, the Eagle Brewery, in the Ninth ward, was libeled, for alleged violation of the Internal Revenue laws, on the information of Mr. George Keyser, Internal Revenue operative. A partial hearing was had before United States Commissioner McCandless, in the case on Saturday, and the testimony given was of an amusing character. It was alleged that the distillery was owned by James W. O'Brien, but it appeared in proof that James Wright and a man named Hagans had at different times, and at the same time, exercised supervising authority. It is claimed by the prosecution that the parties owning the brewery had a fine worm for distilling in a vault, which was seized, and were carrying on the business of distilling whisky with the intention of continuing this very profitable branch of business until they had paid for the brewery. Several of the employees of the establishment were summoned as witnesses, and stated that all the parties, including the hired man, were "bosses," but they could not tell where the money, with which they were paid, came from.

The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday.

Honorably Discharged.

In our issue of Saturday we did great injustice in the notice of the arrest of Mr. J. I. Strouse, a watch-dealer on Smithfield street, on a charge of larceny as bailee, preferred before Alderman McMasters, by one John Grady. At the hearing on Saturday, Mr. S. was fully exonerated and discharged, the charge being utterly without foundation. The facts as developed on the hearing were briefly these: Grady took the watch to Strouse's store on the 5th of July last for repairs. Mr. S. declined to receive the watch, alleging it was not worth fixing. Grady, who was under the influence of liquor, used some insulting language, and took the watch thence to the Messrs. Dunseath, who received the watch and told him to call on the Saturday following. On the day appointed he called on Mr. Strouse and demanded his watch, seemingly utterly oblivious to the fact that he had left it at Dunseath's. Of course Mr. S. could not give it to him. Grady suffered the matter to rest until the 4th inst., when he made the information. He never called on Dunseath for the watch and being a stranger to them the watch remained in their possession. Hearing of the matter the Messrs. Dunseath promptly proceeded to the office of the magistrate and made known the facts, when Mr. Strouse was promptly discharged.

A Pleasant Re-Union.

On Saturday evening the members of Crystal Spring Division, No. 31, Sons of Temperance, together with the public, met at their hall on Seventh street, and installed the officers elect for the ensuing term. It was one of the finest affairs of the kind ever witnessed by the public, over seven hundred persons being present. At eight o'clock the presiding officer called the meeting to order, and after prayer by the Rev. Alexander Clark, Bro. Charles W. McHenry, the Grand Conductor, announced that the D. G. W. P. was ready to instal the officers elect of Crystal Spring Division for the ensuing term. The Recording Scribe then announced the officers, when the G. C. retired and introduced the Deputy, Bro. John D. Bailey. After the officers were installed, Capt. Charles W. McHenry, in behalf of the Division, presented to Bro. Foster Alward, the retiring P. W. P., a magnificent regalia. Bro. Alward received the gift in a neat and appropriate speech, thanking the members for the kindness they had manifested for him during the time he filled the Chair. At the close of his remarks, Mr. Edward Rinehart, assisted by the choir, sang "The Temperance Pledge." Bro. McHenry then presented to John D. Bailey, Esq., a magnificent cane, which was received by Mr. Bailey in a few pertinent remarks. The cane is a magnificent affair and bears the following inscription: "To Bro. John D. Bailey, D. G. W. P., from his friends in Crystal Spring Division S. of T. No. 31, October 5th, 1867." The exercises closed with remarks by the Rev. Alex. Clark. This pleasant affair will long be remembered by the members and visitors.

Public Amusements.

EDWIN BOOTH TO-NIGHT.—A large, fashionable and intelligent audience will doubtless assemble at the Opera House this evening, to see the distinguished young American actor, Mr. Edwin Booth, in his famous specialty, "Hamlet." Able Shaksperian critics have published in the prominent Eastern journals lengthy and minute criticisms of Mr. Booth's "Hamlet," and with singular unanimity they award it the highest praise. His conception of the character is in many respects different to the conventional stage "Hamlet" with which almost every theater-goer is familiar, yet so admirable is his portraiture that no student of Shakspeare can fail to realize in it to what perfection the dramatic art may attain in the hands of genius. Miss Mary McVicker, daughter of Manager McVicker, of Chicago, will support Mr. Booth, and will appear this evening as "Ophelia." She is a young lady of acknowledged histrionic ability, and her performance will add much to the interest of the play.

As we have before remarked, Manager Canning has been at great expense to secure this engagement with Mr. Booth, whose standing offers from Eastern managers are always of an attractive nature, and where his crowded audiences are of the most fashionable and appreciative character. So great is his popularity in the three cities of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, that he is under no necessity to extend his engagements beyond them, and it required much persuasion beside the liberal inducements of Manager Canning, to have him visit Pittsburgh in a professional way. The manager's efforts, then, should be appreciated, as well as Mr. Booth's eminent talent, and crowded audiences should greet him nightly during his brief stay.

THEATER.—Griffin & Christy's minstrels remain two nights longer. This evening Mr. George Percival, the sweet ballad singer, will have a benefit, when this really excellent troupe will appear in one of their best entertainments. To-morrow evening that prince of Ethiopian commedians, George Christy, will have a benefit.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Enthusiastic Republican Meetings in Allegheny, Sharpsburg, Elizabeth, and Marshall, Pine, Peebles and Robinson Townships.

Speeches by H. P. Mueller, T. M. Marshall, W. C. Moreland, Hon. T. J. Bigham, Gen. A. L. Pearson, Major A. M. Brown, H. C. Mackrell, W. S. Purviance, J. S. Robb, J. H. Miller, R. A. Cameron, Hon. S. A. Purviance, J. H. Kerr, Thomas Howard and Major J. F. Slagle.

Meeting in the Third Ward, Allegheny.

A mass meeting of the Republican voters of Allegheny City, was held on Saturday evening in front of the house of Colonel George Gerst, on the corner of East Lane and First street, in the Third ward. The meeting was a very large and enthusiastic one, and gave evidence of what they would do to-morrow at the polls. A brass band was in attendance and discoursed some patriotic airs. The meeting came to order by calling the following officers to preside:

President—John A. Myler.

Vice Presidents—Colonel George Gerst, Fred. Lang, Ludwig Schafer, Wm. G. Stubbs, Robert Henderson, E. F. A. Faulhaber, C. Geib, Captain G. W. Porter and August Miller.

Secretaries—A. H. English, S. S. Watters, Wm. Scandrett and the Reporters of the Press.

After a few eloquent remarks by the chairman, H. P. Mueller, Esq., was introduced and spoke for about an hour in the German language on the general issues of the day, and calling upon loyal Germans to stand by the Republican party and support the ticket.

Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., was next introduced and spoke for half an hour on the opposition movement in this county, regarding the workingmen's movement as a Democratic trick. He said we were all workingmen, but because one man may work harder at manual labor than others, that it is no reason to say that we are not all workingmen, for the business of life requires men suited to both professions and trades.

Wm. C. Moreland, Esq., was the next speaker. He reviewed the great questions to be decided at this election and the importance of every vote being brought out. He urged every Republican to be at the polls to-morrow and cast his vote for Judge Williams and the whole Union ticket.

SPEECH OF SENATOR BIGHAM.

Senator T. J. Bigham was next introduced, and was received with applause. As the points made by the Senator differ in many respects from those made by other speakers in the campaign, we give an abstract of them. He assumed first that men, still more, masses in political parties, act from motive or design, to accomplish certain purposes. The motive or design of the Union Convention at Williamsport was to promote the policy of the party that had lavished untold blood and treasure to sustain the Union, and hence they nominated Henry W. Williams, a man whose life and judicial opinions were in exact accordance with that design or motive. The so-called Democratic Convention at Harrisburg had as its leading members, Judge Black, Attorney General of James Buchanan's Administration, whose legal opinions and counsels in 1860 and '61 had paralyzed patriots and encouraged rebels to found the rebel Confederacy, and fire upon the flag of Sumter, and also, Frank Hughes, who at the same moment was endeavoring to get the old Keystone State on the side track to aid the rebellion. These men were the brains, the moving spirits of the Harrisburg Convention. Now, why did that class of men select George Sharswood as their nominee? They had a motive and design in that selection and that motive and design, led George W. Woodward, another leader of kindred sympathies and purposes, immediately after the adjournment of that Convention, to write a letter indorsing Sharswood's nomination. These three men are the Vallandighams of Pennsylvania—men of large brain, great intellectual powers, who had for years preceding assiduously labored to paralyze the Union cause and ensure the success of the rebellion. To use a slang phrase, they had been running the rebel machine in this State.

The explanation is found in the notorious States right Calhounism of George Sharswood's early life, and the outcropping of the same semi-treasonable doctrines in 1864, denying the authority of the loyal Congress to issue legal tenders to save the Union from destruction. This opinion was issued in the darkest hour of the Union cause, when armed rebels assailed us at every point. It was a useless and uncalled for minority opinion, only calculated to give aid and comfort to the rebels in arms and their sympathizers at home. If any doubt ever existed on this subject, it should be set at rest by the fact that 99-100 of the Pennsylvania soldiers who fought the rebellion in the field will vote against him, and that every disloyal man who ever in his heart wished well to the rebellion will vote for him. Every man who has shouted over the election of open rebels, or rebel sympathizers, in Kentucky and Maryland, will vote for Sharswood. Every man who denies the constitutionality of the iron-clad oath, and wants the ten lately rebel States to be represented in Congress by whom they please, be it Jeff. Davis, Jake Thompson, John C. Breckinridge and company, will all vote for Sharswood.

Aye, but there was a pamphlet to prove that one old Abolitionist, certain David Paul Brown, will also vote for Sharswood. Well, if 299,000 of doubtful loyalty vote one way, and David Paul vote the same, the Q. E. D. is not mathematically very forcible. Astronomers have proved to us that most of the planetary orbs are governed by fixed laws in all their movements. A few erratic bodies called comets, some of them with tails supposed to be millions of miles in length, seem to be exceptions to this general rule. Now in the world of mind and politics, why should we not have an occasional wandering comet. An old abolitionist on the verge of four score, who writes an elaborate pamphlet to explain why he intends to vote with rebel sympathizers, is certainly one of these wandering comets, and is entitled to a tail thirty-five millions of miles in length. Astronomers have been sorely puzzled to explain the functions of comets in the world of matter, and the Senator fancied the problem would be a much more difficult one to explain why a man, who, at a Christian font, received the scriptural names David and Paul, added to the patriotic one of Brown, should write such a pamphlet. "His soul is not marching on."

The Senator's second point was that this overwhelming motive or design explains the fraternization of President Johnson with Southern rebels and their Northern sympathizers. No man had ever denounced both these classes with greater bitterness, and no one in turn was over more heartily despised by them than this same Andrew Johnson, yet for eighteen months past they have heartily co-operated in the effort to destroy the Union cause. That politics makes strange bedfellows never received so remarkable an illustration. If Northern Democrats from 1861 to 1865 really desired the defeat of the rebel armies, why have they in 1866 and 1867 so cordially fraternised in restoring those same rebels to representation and power in the National Government? In either alternative, what claim have they to be trusted now by the people of Pennsylvania? If the people of the late rebel States will accept in good faith the results of the war, and come back to fulfil the duty of loyal citizens of this Union, then the speaker was willing by next Christmas that all of them shall be restored to their representation in Congress. If they are rebels still and insist in that spirit to be readmitted to Congress, then so far as he was concerned, they may wait until the day of judgment. These rebels consulted only themselves in going out. For years they labored day and night to destroy the Constitution and all its guarantees. There was no trouble in finding ample authority in that Constitution to keep them out until they repent of their past sins and promise amendment for the future.

The terms imposed by the Almighty upon fallen man are good enough for rebels lately in armed rebellion. Belzebub, the prince of devils, and Jeff. Davis, the prince of rebels, are no unfit companions. He did not want to see either of these dignitaries admitted to the Senate of the United States.

With reference to State finances, the Senator asked. Have the Republicans failed in their management? For several years past the State debt has been reduced annually about $1,800,000. In fact, deducting bonds held by the State Treasurer to the amount of nearly $12,000,000, our present State debt is only $21,000,000, and will be paid off entire in twelve years at the present rate of reduction. Just now fault-finding Democrats are bewailing the unnecessary State tax. How is this, says some one. We answer that in 1866 the Legislature repealed the tax on real estate for State purposes, say $1,500,000 per annum, leaving the tax on personal property still in force. This had amounted to about $250,000 per annum. The Democratic Auditor, General Strickler, Treasurer Kemble and Secretary Slifer, in April, 1866, had revised the State assessments and instead of $85,000,000 had fixed them at $202,000,000, yielding $683,000 instead of the former amount. This was all published in the last Auditor General and State Treasurer's reports. This increase was not inforced in 1866, and these officers both recommended in lieu of this that $300,000 should be apportioned among the different counties. The speaker prepared a bill and the Senate passed the same. Then these same fault-finding journals raised a clamor that we were adding new State taxes, and thus perhaps, frightened timid members of the House, and the bill fell. The State officials have undertaken to inforce the action of the State Revenue Board in collecting this $683,000, and now a clamor is raised that more than a million of taxes are demanded. Less than half the actual amount, to wit.: $300,000 in lieu of $683,000, would alone have been called for, had the House passed the Senate bill.

The Senator recommended that the next Legislature should repeal this personal property tax in the counties finally paying their share of the tax of 1867. This, with some corrections that ought to be made, would reduce the amount applicable to the reduction of the State debt to about $1,300,000 or $1,400,000 annually, and extend the time of its final redemption to seventeen years. But when we consider that the people of Pennsylvania within the last five years have paid fully $40,000,000 as bounty taxes and by voluntary contributions at least $20,000,000 more, they ought not to be burthened with this personal property tax any longer.

These State bonds are largely held by trustees and persons who do not want them paid off. One million of dollars a year was as much as he cared to see the State debt increased. This State and National debt has become a sort of necessity to our capitalists. He did not believe that correct political economy requires a rapid reduction of either our State or National indebtedness. Rapid changes ought not to be made on these subjects. He would prefer a reduction of State and National taxes, so as to pay only a small margin over the annual interests on the debt. Posterity can very well bear these burthens. The increase of value on the property of the nation will soon pay them and not burthen the present generation.

No reason, therefore, exists in our State affairs, why we should vote for Sharswood. The Democratic party while in power were constantly increasing the State debt. Its reduction is the result of Republican administration.

In conclusion the Senator said a few words to his fellow-citizens of the workingmen's organization. Judge Williams is put forward by Western Pennsylvania, and is the representative of liberal and progressive ideas. Judge Sharswood, on the contrary, is of the retrograde old fogy school. Now the workingmen's organization was the latest outgrowth of the progressive reform. All your sympathies ought to be with the friends of Judge Williams. Every workingman, true to the instincts of his party, ought to vote for Williams and against Sharswood. He ought to do it as a matter of local pride and self-respect. They were Pittsburghers and they ought to desire to see a Judge on the Supreme Bench that sympathises with them in all home and progressive ideas. His competitor was born with a golden spoon in his mouth; never knew what poverty was; has all his life been living in the lap of luxury. His associations are the old fogy traditions of Philadelphia. Judge Williams, on the contrary, was one of themselves. All he has was made by his own industry. Labor has been to him the necessity of his life. His sympathies were theirs, his interest were theirs, his home was theirs. By all the thousand ties which can bind man to man, they ought to give him a hearty and earnest support.

At the conclusion of the Senator's speech the meeting adjourned.

Meeting in Marshall Township.

Quite a large and enthusiastic meeting of loyal Republicans was held on Saturday afternoon at the house of Mr. George W. Warren, in Marshall township. Delegations were present from Marshall, Franklin, McCandless and Pine townships, Allegheny county, and Cranberry and Adams townships, Butler county. The meeting came to order at three o'clock, by electing the following officers to preside:

President—James G. Marshall.

Vice Presidents—Col. A. Gillespie and Henry Robinson.

Secretary—John N. Hazlett.

Mr. Marshall, upon taking the stand, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred on him in electing him to preside, and concluded by introducing Gen. A. L. Pearson.

General Pearson delivered a telling speech, of about half an hours' duration. He spoke in severe terms of the tyrannical rule of Andrew Johnson, and what would likely follow the result of the approaching elections in the North, should they go Democratic. He said that he had been in Baltimore a few weeks ago, and there saw armed men drilling and parading the streets. Many of those in the ranks formerly wore the rebel gray. What was the occasion of this. Our Government does not require our soldiers at the present time to be drilled at night. The speaker said that these were a band of rebel soldiers, organized by Andrew Johnson and his rebel allies in Maryland, for the purpose of creating a disturbance in the land, should the States of the North, by their votes on next Tuesday, declare themselves against the Union. The speaker then turned his attention to the fact that there was not a single soldier placed in nomination by the Democratic party, while the Republican ticket bore the names of five Union soldiers, three of whom had sacrificed limbs in the defense of their country's flag. We ought to say to these veterans that "having lost a limb or endangered your life to save the Union, we will now endeavor to partially repay you." In regard to the canvass for Supreme Judgeship, the speaker regarded it as an important issue. The question as to whether the charter of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad shall be restored will soon be brought up for a decision in the Supreme Court, the result of which is of interest to every citizen in Western Pennsylvania. Two of the Judges now on the Supreme Bench are in favor of restoring the charter and two are opposed to it. The election of Supreme Judge this fall decides that point. If Sharswood is elected he will vote against restoring the charter, and if you elect Judge Williams the charter will be restored. So that this issue will decide this point, which is so vital to the interests of Western Pennsylvania. The speaker then referred to the political standing of the two candidates for Supreme Judgeship, and concluded by calling on every Republican to be at the polls to-morrow and cast his vote for the entire Union ticket.

Major A. M. Brown was then introduced and spoke about three-quarter of an hour on the general issues of the day, and the importance of the approaching election. In regard to the Supreme Judgeship some said that the person placed in that position should not be elected on a political basis. The speaker contended that he should be; that it was as of much importance to the interests of the State as the election of a Chief Executive. After our brave "Boys in Blue" have secured the victory in the field, we are not now going to lose the fruits of the victory by placing rebels and their coadjutors in office. He characterized Judge Sharswood as one of the worst Copperheads. In 1862 Judge Sharswood and John C. Calhoun spoke off the same stump in advocacy of secession principles, and Sharswood has not given us any reason to believe that he has changed his principles since then. The simple fact that Sharswood is indorsed by Jerry Black is sufficient to stamp him as a traitor. The speaker referred to the recent party gotten up in this county, known as the Sawyer-Johnson-Black Mail party, and the little insignificant "Convention" which they had in the Court House. This party, the members of it styled the Johnson Anti-Radical party, when in truth and in fact it is simply a branch of the Democratic party, every one of their nominees being a Democrat. The speaker referred to the side issues brought up in this county—the Workingmen's and Temperance tickets—and characterized them both as impolitic, as the getters up of them knew that they could not elect their tickets and that they were dividing the Republican ranks. In conclusion the speaker called upon every Republican to make to-morrow a holiday and to spend it in bringing out every Republican vote.

The Chairman then announced the following Vigilance Committee appointed for Marshall township, after which the meeting adjourned: Henry Robinson, Wm. Neeley, A. McColley, D. Emerick, Samuel Morrison, Thos. Robinson, Wm. Yortman, and T. Simmons.

Meeting in Pine Township.

A meeting of the Republicans of Pine and adjoining townships was held on Saturday evening at Graham's School House, in Pine township. The meeting was quite large and enthusiastic, and was called to order at half-past seven o'clock by electing Archibald S. McCord, Esq., as President; Alex. Gillespie and Wilson Kennedy as Vice Presidents, and John N. Hazlett as Secretary.

After a few remarks by the Chairman, Mr. McCord, W. S. Purviance, Esq., was introduced, and delivered an excellent speech. He repudiated the policy of the President on the reconstruction of the country. We say that rebels are not entitled to the privileges they had previous to the war, for they have not yet shown that they are penitent and loyal to the country. We want them to come back on Union principles and to abide by them. Andrew Johnson held out inducements to these rebels, which, if granted, would be the cause of another war, and has commenced his tyrannical rule in removing such gallant men as Sheridan and Sickles. In regard to the election to-morrow, the speaker considered it next in importance to the election of a Chief Executive of the nation. The result of the election in Pennsylvania is looked for with great interest. The Republicans of the State expect a large Republican majority from "old Allegheny" and we must not disappoint them. We ought still to hold the proud title of the "Banner County of the State," and when the news from the West is received in Philadelphia to-morrow night, it should be that "Allegheny County is still steadfast to the Union and gives ten thousand majority for Judge Williams."

H. C. Mackrell, Esq., was next introduced to the meeting. When such men as Dick Taylor and a host of other rebels take sides with the Democratic party there was no need of further proof of their principles. The question of the Supreme Judgeship, to be decided to-morrow, is important. George Sharswood, the Copperhead nominee for that position, in a speech in Philadelphia in 1852, declared that a State had a right to secede, and that States were paramount to the Union. The Democrats say that Sharswood is an able jurist and a Christian. We grant that he is an able jurist, but the man who attempts to cover up his treason by professions of christianity is the meanest man on the face of the earth. The speaker considered Judge Williams an abler lawyer and a better Judge than Sharswood, and in proof of this assertion said that Judge Williams, during his professional life, had tried more cases and been less reversed by the Supreme Court in his decisions than Sharswood had.

Major A. M. Brown was called upon and spoke for about twenty minutes. He said he had come to urge every Republican to be at the polls to-morrow and do every exertion to secure the success of the Republican ticket. Our candidate for Supreme Judge, Hon. Henry W. Williams, is from our own county, is a patriotic and able man, and is worthy the support of every loyal man. The speaker referred in severe terms to the pamphlet of David Paul Brown, who pretended to be a Republican, yet endeavored to secure the success of Sharswood. Any man that would commit such an act was not worthy of the name of Republican and should be voted out of the party. The speaker called upon every loyal man to be at the polls to-morrow, and roll up such a rousing majority for the Union ticket as will strike terror to the heart of Andrew Johnson and his allies.

Gen. A. L. Pearson made a brief speech. He said that in a recent issue of the "Johnson organ," in this city, it was stated that one of the candidates on the Republican ticket, a one-armed soldier, had lost his limb by an accident in Washington city. This the speaker branded as an infamous and malicious lie, as the party referred to had served with distinction in the army as a private soldier and lost his arm in one of the battles before Richmond. The speaker then compared the several tickets placed in nomination in this county, and showed that the Republican ticket was composed mostly of soldiers.

On motion, a vote of thanks was tendered to the speakers for their eloquent addresses, after which the meeting adjourned.

Meeting in Peebles Township.

The Republicans of Peebles and adjoining townships held quite a large meeting, on Saturday evening, at the Hazlewood School House. The following gentlemen were elected to preside:

President—A. B. Stevenson, Esq.

Vice Presidents—James Watson, Joseph Beals, R. H. Palmer, Captain D. Kerr, and Captain Joseph Nixon.

Secretaries—James McKibben and George H. Anderson.

Able and stirring speeches were then delivered by J. S. Robb, J. H. Miller and R. A. Cameron, Esqrs., each of whom urged upon the Republicans the importance of the election, and calling upon them to be at the polls to-morrow and to bring out every Republican vote. At the conclusion of the speeches the meeting adjourned.

Meeting at Sharpsburg.

An enthusiastic meeting of Republican voters was held on Saturday evening, near the railroad depot, in the borough of Sharpsburg, which was presided over by A. Morton, Esq.

Hon. S. A. Purviance was introduced by the Chairman, and spoke for some time on the important issues of the day. He reviewed the administrations of the Democratic party during the last fifteen years, and referred to the tyranny of Andrew Johnson. The speaker paid a high tribute to the character and integrity of Judge Williams and said that it was the duty of every Republican and loyal man to use his best efforts to secure his election.

General F. H. Collier was called upon, but declined making a speech. He said, however, that he would have the pleasure of addressing them at the mass meeting in Etna to-night.

The meeting then adjourned.

Meeting it Robinson Township.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican voters of Robinson, Scott, Union and Chartiers townships was held at Wycoff's Continental Hotel, near Mansfield, on Saturday evening. Before the hour of seven quite a number had assembled, which was largely increased, until at eight o'clock the meeting had assumed extensive proportions. The organization was affected by calling Mr. Harvey Robb to the chair, annd appointing Sidney Roland, Esq., and Mr. John Fisher, Secretaries.

The first speaker introduced was John H. Kerr, Esq., of this city, who spoke of the status of our national affairs. They had assembled here not so much to hear argument as to rally the forces for a last final charge. The South was as rebellious to-day as it was when the first gun of Sumpter sent an echo round the world, and summoned a million of freemen in defence of the old flag. That spirt must be broken and the rebels taught that their only hope rests in accepting the reconstruction plan of Congress in the fraternal spirit in which it is offered. He concluded by exhorting every voter to cast his ballot for Judge Williams to-morrow, and if they did the sun of that day would set on a triumphant victory.

Thomas Howard, Esq., then took the stand and delivered an able and effective speech of over an hour's duration. He spoke of the record of Andrew Johnson as being the most infamous that ever blackened the pages of history. He and many of those before him had voted to elevate him to the Vice-Presidency—an act which he would regret all the days of his life. The Republican party had disowned him, the Democratic party had given him up and he was to-day a mullius filius, the son of no body. He had decapitated the gallant Phil Sheridan, and for this act would have to bear the odium which a patiotic people would heap upon him. The speaker then turned his attention to the Labor Reform Movement. This land was one which honored labor, everywhere, everything that was worth having was the product of labor. Every man in the Assembly who was toiling in any capacity was a man of labor. There was no privilledged class who were the nabobs of the nation. It was a noticeable fact that the rich man of to-day may be the poor man of to-morrow, and the poor man of to-day may die with a princely estate, which may again be scattered by improvident sons. He contended that the Republican party had always been for elevating the masses and would adhere to the same policy in the future. He concluded by exhorting the workingman to consult his best interest by voting for the Republican ticket. The speaker on retiring was greeted with three cheers.

Maj. J. F. Slagle was then called for. He said he would, owing to the coldness of the night, prefer not to speak, but as they desired, he would make a few remarks on the side issues that were agitating the people. It would be easy to demonstrate by the simplest rule of arithmetic that the workingmen could not elect their ticket. The most sanguine of them estimated their vote at seven thousand. As there would be some thirty thousand votes cast, how could seven thousand elect. He did not believe that the workingmen would have over two thousand. Even if they elected their ticket, they could accomplish nothing, for one vote in the Senate and six in the House would not be sufficient to carry any measures. If they combined with the Democrats, still the Republican party would have a large majority over all. The hope for the workingman was in the ranks of the Republican party. The speaker was listened to with the closest attention by the crowd, a large portion of whom was composed of workingmen.

The meeting was very enthusiastic, and no doubt the townships represented on Saturday night will be heard from on Tuesday.

MEETING AT ELIZABETH.

A meeting of the Republican voters of Elizabeth township and vicinity, was held on Friday evening near the house of Dr. Shaffer, in the borough of Elizabeth. The meeting was a very large one, delegations being present from all the surrounding country. Addresses were delivered by Major J. F. Slagle and Theo. Howard, Esq., of this city, and Mr. Hugh Donaldson, of Elizabeth, each of whom showed the importance of the present canvass, and urged every Republican to use his might in securing a victory for the Union cause.

More Railroad Thieves Arrested.

During the past six months a number of articles have been stolen from the freight trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and all efforts towards discovering the guilty parties have heretofore proved unsuccessful. On Saturday, however, certain facts were elicited tending to implicate three young men, named Burns, Coulter and Brown, who had been arrested on the previous day on suspicion of stealing a pair of pants, and upon searching Brown's house, in the Ninth ward, a caddy of tobacco which had been stolen from a freight car, was found. In Coulter's house, in East Liberty, a cloth coat, and a lot of keys were also discovered. The coat is supposed to have been stolen, and the keys fitted the doors of the cars. A number of other articles, supposed to have been stolen, were found at a house at Derry station. It is stated that one of the party had become so expert as to be able to jump from a train of cars while running at their regular speed, and escape without injury. The police are working up the case, and further developments may be looked for shortly.

PEDESTRIANISM.—A foot race took place at Oakland Park on Saturday afternoon, between Johnny Newell, of this city, and a noted pedestrian from Wheeling, W. Va., for a purse of one hundred dollars. The distance run was fifty yards. The race was won by Newell, who beat his opponent about three yards.

A foot race will take place between Newell and Kendrick, of Chicago, on Wednesday afternoon next, at the Union Park, Allegheny. The distance to be run will be one hundred yards, and the purse two hundred dollars.

OUR CANDIDATE.

Hon. Henry W. Williams.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, June 28.]

WORTHY CANDIDATES.

"The nomination of Henry W. Williams as a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, is a good one. He was the best man named before the Republican Convention, and possesses legal and moral qualifications for the responsible position to which he has been nominated. Both parties have now presented their candidates. An important duty has been faithfully discharged by the respective conventions. The campaign may now be conducted without personal aspersions, and decided upon the principles of the two great parties. This is as it should be."

[From the Pittsburgh Post, August 19.]

If the notice of Judge Williams's nomination which appeared in the "Post" at the time, and now kept standing at the head of the Republican papers, is intended as a rebuke for any supposed inconsistency since, it fails in its purpose. We have nothing to take back or modify. Of Judge Williams's private or legal reputation we have nothing but words of praise, and however it may suit some pugnacious and heady politicians, we cannot bring ourselves to view personal assaults as either wise or politic. The Democracy plants itself upon principle and deals with facts, and discusses the public and official acts of candidates.

THE Philadelphia Press, in noticing one of the issues to be decided in the coming election, says if Allegheny, Birmingham and the other suburban districts be added to Pittsburgh, the whole will constitute a respectably imposing town.

THE Hon. DAVID A. WELLS, Special Commissioner of the Revenue, will shortly visit Pittsburgh, to confer with our manufacturers and dealers with reference to future legislation on the trade and commerce of the country.

THE scheme for practically repudiating the national debt by paying it off with paper, is likely to create a serious division of the Democrats. The Hon. S. S. Cox, formerly Congressman from Ohio, and now of New York, and everywhere a recognized leader, has repudiated the proposition; and there is not a neighborhood in the land that Democrats cannot be found who will join the Republicans on that issue. So, gentlemen repudiators, go ahead.

A PHILADELPHIA paper says that assistance has been lately and unostentatiously tendered to Mrs. LINCOLN by leading Republicans, but she ungraciously rejected it. Apart from the great fame, character and services of her late husband, she cannot be deemed worthy of such offers. There were reasons enough why she should not have drawn criticism upon herself; having disregarded them, it will be by the greatest stretch of charity if she escape the consequences.

THE removal of Col. MESSMORE, Deputy Revenue Commissioner in New York, is likely to bring down upon the head of Secretary MCCULLOCH the thunders of the National Intelligencer and strengthen the influence which is urging the President to ask the Secretary to resign. So far has the purpose of calling another to the Treasury progressed that the question who shall be the Secretary's successor has been seriously canvassed. As a matter of fact, Secretary MCCULLOCH thinks as little of Mr. JOHNSON as Mr. JOHNSON thinks of him. There is no prospect of much love being lost between them.

THE reception accorded to SHERIDAN, wherever he appears, fully attests how fully the people recognize his great services. It is no accident that rendered him capable of rendering those services, but it was through the discernment of General GRANT that he was placed in the position to render them. The next thing to doing a great action is the selecting of the man from many others not fully proven, who can be relied upon to do it. Mr. LINCOLN stood by General GRANT at a critical moment, and he gave him the opportunity to prove himself the great captain in whom we stood in such sore need. General GRANT perceived who SHERIDAN was and what he could do, and gave him the opportunity. The honors and gratitude given to GRANT, are at the same time evidence of our appreciation of the sagacity and wisdom of MR. LINCOLN, and the honors which SHERIDAN is everywhere receiving are indorsements of GRANT for having chosen him for the field in which he rendered such great services to the country and won imperishable renown.

THE WORKINGMEN AND THE CHIEF JUSTICE

Of all others the workingmen should support Judge WILLIAMS. While seeking to reform the Legislature, were they to overlook the Judiciary they would be guilty of great inconsistency. As a body they must concede that not in the range of the legal profession is there another man more worthy of the support than Judge WILLIAMS. They know him to be upright and learned, and are not these qualities enough to secure their favor? It is not probable that were the selection of Chief Justice committed to them they would find a reason why Judge WILLIAMS should not be taken. May we not, then, expect workingmen will be consistent, and in a body vote for Judge WILLIAMS?

VOTE FOR WILLIAMS

Were the electors of Western Pennsylvania—more especially Allegheny county—to vote according to their convictions, we are persuaded that the votes that SHARSWOOD would receive would be an insignificant number. In addition to the eminent qualifications of Judge WILLIAMS, Western Pennsylvania is entitled to the selection of the Chief Justice. Her large and increasing population, varied and growing interests, and reasons arising from geographical considerations, all support this claim. We have a peculiar interest in the character of the highest judicial tribunal of the State. In Judge WILLIAMS we have the most satisfactory assurance possible as to all the qualities requisite to a wise and upright chief expounder of the law. It is rare that this assurance is given to anything like the extent it is in the present instance. This view of the case should impress itself on the business community and all others who realize how important it is to have a wise and upright Judge presiding over our highest court.

We do not hesitate to ask Democrats to cast their votes for our candidate, confident that the only thing that restrains thousands is party discipline. This restraint may well be cast aside in a judicial election; especially where the claims of superior fitness counsel such a course. Therefore, without indulging in frantic appeals to partizanship, we confidently hold up HENRY W. WILLIAMS for the support of electors, independent of party divisions, as the man whom their judgment has already proclaimed to them the most fit to be chosen to the high position of Chief Justice.

THE fact the question of equal suffrage, in the form of a Constitutional Amendment, is to be voted on by the electors of Ohio to-morrow, causes the result there to be awaited with peculiar interest. Although the Republican State Convention declared for the Amendment, and the canvass has been conducted with unsurpassed vigor and ability, with the Republicans on the affirmative side, it is conceded that the proposition has a good deal less strength than Gen. HAYES, the Republican candidate for Governor. If it carries it will be by a majority considerably under that by which he will be elected.

It is not to be doubted that the result as a test of public opinion will exert considerable influence on the future. Should Ohio reject the Amendment, the result will signify that the intelligent people of that State at least are not prepared for equal suffrage, and that time must be given to allow the prejudice which prevails on the subject to wear off and a higher standard of action become established. Should it be carried by a small vote, the fact would still be admonitory. What the people decree must be respected and submitted to. There is too much majesty and meaning in the solemn verdict of the people of a whole State, after full, fair and able discussion, to have it treated lightly, or even for appeal, except to a higher intelligence—which comes only of time and reflection.

CONSOLIDATION.

A Few Words with the Northern District.

A portion of the citizens of the Northern District oppose consolidation, not with fair arguments on the merits of the question, but having a strong partiality for the name "Allegheny City," they are grieved to learn, that she will lose that name and assume that of Pittsburgh. And yet these same opponents of the measure—be they Generals, Congressmen, city officials or private citizens—almost universally, when traveling or sojourning in other places, refuse to register as hailing from "Allegheny City," and promptly place their names upon the hotel and bankers' registers as having their residence in "Pittsburgh, Pa." Very recently an inspection of the hotel registers of Philadelphia and New York disclosed the fact that many of our merchants, living and doing business in Allegheny City, and many eminent private citizens of that place, do not hesitate to register themselves as living in Pittsburgh. By turning to the last Congressional Directory, page 14, we find Congressional District 23, Pennsylvania, comprising all of Allegheny county North and West of the Allegheny and Ohio rivers, and Armstrong and Butler counties, and that its representative, the Hon. THOMAS WILLIAMS, records his P. O. address "Pittsburgh, Pa." This distinguished gentleman is and has been for several years an actual resident of Allegheny City, and is now taking an active part against consolidation, (as witness his signature to a little pamphlet on the subject.) Although one of his principal arguments against consolidation is based on the extinguishment of the name of Allegheny City, he does not hesitate to blot it out so far as he can do it, by having himself recorded officially as residing in "Pittsburgh, Pa," and it goes so the world over. If people, living on the North side, love Allegheny more than they love Pittsburgh, they should take every occasion to show that love when traveling or sojourning in other places, by having their names recorded as from their place of abode. But the reason is very plain why people of Allegheny City register from Pittsburgh. In New York, Philadelphia, Washington—everywhere in fact—the name of Allegheny City is not much better known than that of Lawrenceville, or Birmingham, and it is better to be on the record as hailing from a known city than from a place that people know very little about.

Some other people, holding public offices, oppose consolidation, fearing that they will lose their offices, and these we find to be the most active workers against the measure. One Alderman in Allegheny City is striving with all his might to defeat the measure avowedly because if the measure carries he will lose his office. His opposition is founded on ignorance and self aggrandisement.

We have repeatedly given the cost of the bridges in the proposed consolidation, which foots up $666,250, and at about which figure they can be purchased. But the opponents of the measure are endeavoring to make a point with the laboring classes and the mechanics by endeavoring to impress upon them that it will require millions of dollars to make the bridges free, and that a huge tax would have to be imposed. They could be made free in five years by continuing the present rate of toll, and sufficient revenue would be derived in the meanwhile to provide for all expenses in keeping them open and in good order. We have repeatedly given the figures in proof of this. When these bridges are free the people on the Allegheny side will annually save $46,986 in the way of toll now collected, or more than half the cost of any one of the bridges over the Allegheny, excepting the Suspension Bridge. If the people of the Northern District vote against consolidation, that vote will be equivalent to a vote to continuing a mortgage equal to an annual six mill tax on the assessed valuation of the entire district.

"Two papers at Forth Smith, Ark., the Standard and the New Era, are quarreling for the leadership of the Republican party. The New Era lately called the Standard editor "the bastard son of a renegade suicide." A brickbat came hurling after the New Era man, and he ran to shelter unharmed. The assailant paid $1 fine in the police court. A Republican meeting in Crawford county has requested the editors to cease quarreling, and make common cause against the common enemy."

Editors who have no higher ambition and no better appreciation of journalism than the organship party or faction, that is, a mere instrument to be played on by others, may be expected in some way or other to disgrace themselves. The championship of principles is honorable, and the true mission of the press. The less a paper is an organ, in the common acceptation, the more is it independent and truthful. The tendency of this sort of thing is to the Fort Smith style of argumentation.

THE New York Times, of Friday, had an able editorial advancing many cogent reasons why New York should be Republican this fall. "Every consideration of the public good," it says, "demands the continued retention of the State of New York in the hands of the Republican Party." "The time will come," it continues, "when many wrongs and excesses of that party can be corrected and brought under healthful control; but for the present all these considerations must yield to the higher claim, —to the more urgent necessity of bringing about at the earliest possible moment the practical reconstruction of the Union."

SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN, in a speech at Newark on Wednesday evening, in speaking of the public debt, said that this generation ought never to attempt to pay a dollar of the principal of it. The next generation will be larger in number and in wealth, and a burden that would break the back of one man can be borne easily by two. This is the spirit of Senator Morton's idea, but the reverse of Secretary McCulloch's, who thinks the debt should be paid off in thirty years. Acquiescence in the contrary doctrine is increasing; and is likely to prove the germ of a settled policy.

A LETTER to the Herald, dated at Philadelphia, about the prospect in this State, concedes that the chances of the Democrats winning a victory depends very much on whether to-morrow is rainy or not. The writer says "there are some whispers afloat that Messrs. Belmont and the Manhatan Club, of New York, are raising 'material and financial aid,' which will be felt in Philadelphia on election day, rain or shine."

AN enthusiastic Republican meeting was held in Huntingdon Friday afternoon. In the Philadelphia Press's report of the proceedings, a single line announces that Ex-Governor Curtin addressed the meeting, and a two column report, in fine type, assures us that Colonel John W. Forney, proprietor of the Press made a speech.

LEWIS D. CAMPBELL, who got as far as New Orleans in the capacity of Minister to Mexico, is making speeches on the Democratic side in Ohio.

BARNUM's gorilla is no gorilla but a baboon—the very latest humbug of the greatest of humbuggers. A sharp-eyed reporter of the Evening Mail went to see it, and he tells about it as follows: "The first glimpse we had of the animal, however, settled the gorilla question, and set the mind at ease concerning the iron bars. We saw before us huddled low down in the cage, against the bars of which its nose was pressed, a very fine specimen of the baboon—a species of simian with which the gorilla, being an ape, can not properly be classed. The baboon in question appears to be one of the cynocephali, or dog-nosed baboons, bearing a strong similarity to the hamadryas—so called—that used to be exhibited with the Van Amburg collection two or three years ago, and not very much dissimilar, except in superior size, to the chacma baboon in the collection at Central Park. At any rate the creature is a baboon, having a tail, and bare spots on the posteriors peculiar to that species of quadrumane and therefore it cannot be a gorilla.

MRS. LINCOLN AND HER WARDROBE.

Comments of the Press.

[From the N. Y. Commercial.]

We have never approached a question with half the sorrow that this one awakens. To vindicate, shield and protect "Heaven's best gift to man" is a grateful duty, while to even reprove, and much more to assail a woman, is painful, and if without a perfect justification, unmanly.

If the American Congress, or the American people, have failed to meet the pecuniary expectations of Mr. Lincoln's widow, it is because that personage failed, during his life and since his death, to inspire either with respect or confidence. They should not, therefore, be subjected to the reproach, or rest under the imputation, of ingratitude. Had Mrs. Lincoln, while in power, borne herself becomingly, the suggestion of a Lincoln fund, by voluntary contributions, would have been promptly responded to. The national heart was warm. It gushed out in liberal endowments for Grant and Farragut. It would as cheerfully have met the appeal in favor of Mrs. Lincoln if it had not intuitively closed and chilled.

In her conversation Mrs. Lincoln is represented as bitterly denouncing Secretary Seward, for which, of course, there is no warrant or excuse, for he wrongs no man, and much less is he capable of injustice, wrong, or even unkindness, to woman.

But we happen to know—the late Caleb B. Smith then Secretary of the Interior, being our informant—a fact which incensed Mrs. Lincoln against Mr. Seward. The President gave the Prince Napoleon a dinner, for which Mrs. Lincoln sent to the Secretary of the Interior for payment a bill of some $900. This demand, though wholly illegal, coming from the President's wife, embarrassed the Secretary, who called upon the Secretary of State for advice, where he learned that Mr. Seward had also dined the Prince, having the same number guests, and giving them a duplicate of the dinner at the White House. In fact, Mr. Seward ordered both dinners from the same restaurant, and by his own bill, knew the cost of each. For what Mr. Seward paid $300, Mrs. Lincoln demanded $900. But whether three or nine hundred, the claim was alike illegal and could not be paid. For this, however, Mrs. Lincoln quarreled with Secretaries Smith and Seward. This amount, however, was subsequently covered up in a gardener's account, but occasioned scandal, which respect for Mr. Lincoln measurably suppressed.

Though Mr. Lincoln left an estate which enabled his family to live quite as comfortably as they had ever lived, Congress and the people would have promptly and cheerfully provided munificently for them if Mrs Lincoln herself, with every advantage that high position gave her, had made friends, or inspired respect. And this last exhibition proves how instinctively right the proper estimate of her character was.

The fact for which Mrs Lincoln seeks large publicity, namely, that she received presents valued at $24,000, is a pregnant and suggestive one—suggestive, at least, of offices and contracts, unless the more charitable construction is reached through the assumption that they were expressions of regard and friendship. But it is not known that the wife of any other President, however estimable, was so loaded with shawls, laces, furs, diamonds, rings, &c.

Mrs. Lincoln's propensity to sell things was manifested early, and before any necessity was forseen. If our information is reliable, eleven of Mr. Lincoln's new linen shirts were sold almost before the remains, which were shrouded in the twelfth, had started for that "bourne from whence no traveler returns."

Individually, we are obliged to Mrs. Lincoln for an expression of her ill-will. It is pleasant to remember that we were always out of favor in that quarter. And it is equally pleasant to remember that we possessed the friendship and confidence of Mr. Lincoln to the last hour of his life, without paying court, as others did, to Mrs. Lincoln, and in spite of her constant effort to disturb our relations.

This mortifying revelation will go abroad, and as is natural, the press of Europe will make the most of it, in deprecating the ingratitude of our Government, and the want of liberality in the American people. This consideration alone constrains us to discharge the unpleasant duty of showing that neither the government nor the people are justly obnoxious to these accusations.

[From the New York Herald.]

We regret, as every sensible American must regret, to see the private affairs of Mrs. Lincoln thus brought before the public. It cannot but lead to gossip and disagreeable discussions. Has Mrs. Lincoln been badly advised in this matter? Is there a purpose to injure the Republicans, or to take revenge for their neglect to provide for the widow of their murdered President? If so a mistake has been made. The Republican Congress may be to blame for not showing more liberality to the widow of their chief, and prominent individuals of the party (some of whom are mamed), who were deeply indebted to Mr. Lincoln for favors, deserve condemnation for their ingratitude: but Mrs. Lincoln's circumstances can have no political effect. We may regret the want of liberality on the part of Congress and the necessity which places Mrs. Lincoln in her present disagreeable situation; but she has an undoubted right to dispose of her own property as she pleases.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

Mrs. Lincoln has authorized the publication of her letters to her broker in this city, intended to stimulate him to the prompt sale of the articles of personal property which she had sent him for that purpose. The letters are now published, partly to advertise the sale and partly to stimulate individual buyers. The exhibition is not one which is calculated greatly to elevate the public ideas of propriety and good taste, but we hope the publication may attain the object it was intended to serve.

[From the New York World.]

The exclusive publication in Thursday's World, of Mrs. Lincoln's correspondence with her agents in this city, in regard to the sale of her wardrobe, had created a great flutter in circles fashionable as well as political. Yesterday the rooms of Mr. Brady, 609 Broadway, were filled nearly all day by ladies and gentlemen, who came to look at the goods displayed for sale under such unfortunate circumstances. The people could hardly reconcile the unimpeachable accuracy of the World with such a state of facts, and hundreds came on simple missions of inquiry, to go away satisfied that there was more truth than poetry in the statement. During the day three United States Senators, whose names by request we withhold, called to see Mr. Brady, and on just such a mission. A large number of letters from all parts of the country have also been received by Mr. Brady, asking to know the truth, and making indignant protests against permitting a forced consummation of Mrs. Lincoln's plans.

The sale yesterday did not exceed $150, notwithstanding the large number of ladies that called. Many no doubt were prompted by curiosity, and after examing the goods to their satisfaction, retired without purchasing. Among those who called were the wives and daughters of several prominent merchants.

As previously announced, if the greater part of the inventory is not disposed of within a few days they will be put up at auction, and sold for what they will bring.

A letter from New York says: The journals are publishing further developments concerning Mrs. Lincoln and her proposed auction sale of dry goods; but much of it is idle gossip. Mrs. Lincoln has gone to Chicago, and her sincerest friends here are those who most deprecate her publication in the newspapers of things which, for the credit of herself and all concerned, had better been kept secret. There are reports current as to a written communication she has left behind her for publication in one of the Sunday sensation papers, in which the names of several prominent politicians and officeholders of this city are spoken of with great freedom; but what truth there is in the story there is, at this writing, no means of determining.

UNITED STATES BONDS AT FRANKFORT.—The London Times of September 20th says: United States bonds are also flat in consequence of the advancing gold premiums at New York, and "the attempts from that side to force the 1888 bonds on the Frankfort market, although these have been proved hitherto unavailable." Business in American securities is at the same time impeded by irregularities in the arrival of New York cable quotations. Until now they had been received by the agency at Reuter, but the office which distributes them has been abruptly closed by the Prussian government, who, it appears, will not forego the advantage of keeping all telegraphic news in their own hands—a resolution, it is remarked, "not in accordance with the Prussian boast, that they, more than other governments, support trade and commerce."

IN Northern Ohio, according to the Sandusky Register, the effects of the drought are very serious. For nearly three months hardly any thing to be called a shower has fallen in this part of the Reserve. Every thing in the way of foliage is parched, blackened and covered with dust. Cisterns long since went dry, and now nine-tenths of the wells are nearly exhausted. In some cases cattle are driven six miles to water, and for ten miles back from the shore people depend upon the lake for water. Last week water was hauled from the lake, at Sandusky, to Bellevue—twenty miles by railroad, inland. In some localities water hauled a great distance is sold by the pailful, for cooking and washing purposes.

DR. CHAUSSIER'S EMPRESS.

LA COMPOSITION IMPERATRICE, POUR LES CHEVEUX.

It has long been known that the hair, by mental exertion, by excitement, by disease, and imperfect circulation, loses its vitality turns gray and falls off. That eminent French Chemist, Dr. CHAUSSIER, has provided a complete antidote, and at the same time a beautiful dressing for the hair, durable and finely perfumed. Remember, this is the finest article for the toilet that has ever been presented to the public. It is not a Dye. It will not soil the finest linen. It will not gum the hair. It is free from the disagreeable smell of sulphur. It relieves the scalp of dandruff or unpleasant irritation. Prevents the hair from falling off, even after fever. Causes the new hair to grow. It will restore gray hair to its natural color, or the money will be refunded in every instance. As this preparation is comparatively new in this country, the proprietors present the testimonials of well known persons as to its excellence. Directions in French and English.

About Consolidation.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Your article on consolidation, in Saturday's COMMERCIAL, has been read with great pleasure by many of us. That portion relative to bridges being free of toll, is first-rate; so good that, like old Father Taylor's almanac, it might apply without any material variation to other latitudes.

A bridge is a joint stock concern, and so is a bank. A bridge charges toll on passengers for the profit of the stockholders; a bank does the same thing on borrowers. Now, as we live in an advancing age, and things have altered "since the war," and as a "sovereign act" of Assembly can enable me to walk, ride or drive over my friend John Harper's bridge free of toll, suppose we have one passed, enabling us to borrow money out of his bank free of discount.

When the banks are free the saving to the people will be a very large sum annually. The freeing of the banks will remove a tax which is now equal to six mills on the entire valuation of the proposed city. By voting against consolidation the people will say that A. has no right to seize on B.'s property without his consent, which would prove that the people are a set of old fogies, and by no means up to the advanced position we have assumed "since the war."

THE DUPLEX COLLAR.

Licensed by Union Paper Collar Co., of N. Y.

This Collar is made of the best pure white linen stock, full-faced for the cravat, an exact imitation of Linen, water-proofed by an entirely new process, turned on a full curve line, and manufactured on new patented machinery, which imparts a beauty of form and finish possessed by no other Collar. In Byron and Garrote styles the WATER LINE COLLAR, a very heavy enameled, in same styles.

The NE PLUS ULTRA COLLAR, plain—unequalled in whiteness, texture and strength.

THE DUPLEX CUFF.

600,000 PAIRS ORDERED WEEKLY.

This Cuff is made under the patent of the Ne Plus Ultra Collar Company, with a NEW BUTTON HOLE, patented June 19, 1866, used in no other Cuff, which enables the wearer to put in or take out the stud instantly, without tearing or injuring the Cuff or button hole. Heavy pure white stock, imitation of linen, water-proofed. We also manufacture the "Water Line Cuff," heavy enameled, corresponding with the Collar of that name NE PLUS ULTRA COLLAR COMPANY, Biddeford, Me.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Near Memphis the negroes on a plantation took sick of cholera. Although under regular medical treatment they were doing well, an "inspired" darkey directed them to throw away the "doctor stuff" and eat a handfull of salt and a bunch of figs. The result was they all died.

A large amount of wheat is being shipped from Lake Michigan ports for Montreal and other Canadian ports, whence they go by the St. Lawrence for Montreal to Europe. Eight cargoes were shipped from Montreal last week from the single port of Milwaukee. One-fourth of the Eastward movement of wheat for the week is destined for Canadian ports for export.

The Congregationalist and Recorder says that during the past 20 years the Roman Catholic immigration has been only 20 per cent. in excess of the Protestant. Meantime the increase of the native Protestant population has been vastly in excess of the Catholic. And already the tide has been turned in favor of Protestantism. During the present year, up to August 21, the whole number of immigrants received at the port of New York, was 163,059, of whom only 45,395 were from Ireland, against 77,042 from Germany. England and Scotland sent 25,455; Norway, Sweden and Denmark, 4,918; Holland, 1,836; Switzerland, 2,959; so that the majority of this year's immigration is decidedly protestant.

The evidences of mismanagement or fraud in the application of the Antietam Cemetery fund are so glaring that the Governors of New York and Pennsylvania are withholding the appropriations until further investigations can be made.

The Devil's Auction is the title of a piece of the Black Crook order brought out at Banvard's museum, N. Y. It is represented that the dresses and scenery are gorgeous beyond anything ever before seen in America, and the young ladies appear in as near the Georgia "shirt collar and pair of spurs" costume as the law allows. One fair damsel represents a horse—head, tail and all—and does not encumber herself with any further clothing than that animal is generally supposed to wear.

There was a heavy rain in Philadelphia, Thursday night. It is remarkable that while Western Pennsylvania is parched with drouth the reverse is the fact east of the mountains.

An apple blossom was picked in Springfield, (Mass.,) on the 1st day of October. Four years ago a second growth of apples were picked from trees at Fortress Monroe.

As evidence of the extraordinary growth of vegetation in Florida, it is mentioned that a single tomato plant, spreading like the banyan tree, has entirely covered a bed eighteen feet square. It had produced about six bushels of fruit up to the latter part of August, and was still producing, a bushel or more being on it sometimes at once.

Our bonds were called five-twenties because the Government may redeem them, at its option, five years after date, or wait till the expiration of twenty years.

An exploration of the falls of the Ohio, at Louisville, is now being made with diving bells and other suitable apparatus, in search of lost treasure, under the guidance of clairvoyant knowledge. Seven steam boilers, two wrecks of steamers, two locomotives, a safe with a cool million inside, and other valuables without number or mention, are to be fished out.

A diamond in the rough state was found at Camden, Miss., during the war, but at the time was considered of no value. Since then it has been examined, and, in the opinion of intelligent men, it is worth $50,000.

PERSONAL.

—Mr. and Mrs. General Geary and four children have become members of a church in Harrisburg.

—Garibaldi is described as follows by a person who had an opportunity of observing him closely at Geneva: "He is dressed as he appears in all his photographs—red shirt, light blue pantaloons, gray felt hat and his American poncho, with black stripes on his shoulders; in his pocket a large silver watch with a steel chain. He appears to be suffering, walks with difficulty, and his right hand, disabled by rheumatism, must not be too vigorously shaken."

—Mr. Smalley writes to the Tribune from London a correction of the belief in this country that Carlyle is an enemy to the United States. He says: "I affirm of my own knowledge that Carlyle's feelings were of a kind very different from these. He disbelieved in the ideas on which the American Republic is built, but for America, for the people of America, and for the fidelity and courage which marked the struggle of the North for the Union he has often expressed his cordial liking and admiration."

—Chief Justice Chase recently said in a speech at Manchester, "it was in a New Hampshire church that I experienced the spiritual awakening which leads one to look forward trustingly to the life eternal."

—Eaton Stone, the veteran bare-back rider, has fitted up his farm at Passaic, New Jersey, as a wintering place for the circus profession, where they may practice their horses and keep their own muscles in condition.

—Bonner says he prides himself on two things. These are, "In demonstrating that a paper of high moral tone will be the most successful, and that a private gentleman can drive and own the best horses in the country without making a gambler of himself."

—A wealthy Hebrew at San Francisco, happy in being the father of male triplets, has named them Abraham Lincoln, Isaac Andrew Johnson, and Jacob John Conness. The circumcision rite was performed with great pomp, Setember 14. Gen. McDowell held Abraham, a deputy for Governor-elect Haight held Isaac, and Senator Conness held Jacob. Three officiating clergymen performed the ceremony of circumcision, each rabbi taking one child, and at the altar gold medals were hung upon the little innocents, whose names were found inscribed upon the obverse, while the reverse of each medal respectively called to mind Abraham offering up Isaac, Isaac blessing Jacob, and Jacob's ladder.

—Ex-Confederate General Joseph E. Johnston has resigned the Presidency of the Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad, from Selma to Dalton, and his place has been filled by the election of Franklin H. Deland, of New York.

—The latest bit of gossip about the Prince of Wales is given in a Hamburg letter to the London Morning Post: "The Prince of Wales appears to like German life; he radiates from Baden, and makes pleasure excursions. How different is the life of the unhappy Princess of Wales! The Prince comes over here occasionally with one or two friends, and they try their luck at the tapis vert, but I hear are not gaining fortunes."

—In 1832 a society of seven young men was formed in Cincinnati. They agreed to have a memorial dinner every year. In 1858 the last one celebrated the anniversary with six empty chairs around him. He is still living.

—It is said that Miss Pattie Dahlgren, a sister of Admiral Dahlgren, is soon to be married to a New York gentleman named Reed, who has an income of $80,000 per annum. They will visit Europe on a bridal tour, accompanied by Miss Dahlgren, daughter of the Admiral.

—Mr. Bonner, of the New York Ledger, was recently offered $5,000 to exhibit Dexter and the Auburn horse one day at Washington, but he declined. He says that when the fine new building he is now erecting in New York for his newspaper is completed, he will exhibit both it and Dexter, but that at present both Dexter and his mate can be seen, "on Harlem lane by any one who can keep up with them."

—John Paul in the New York Citizen has the following: Society, however—I am sorry to say it—abounds with animated gimlets—creatures that pride themselves upon their penetration, and are forever essaying their powers. They bore you, and that is all.

—A writer in the Gentleman's Magazine states that the blood of Caractacus flows in the veins of Queen Victoria, through Cadvan, his great-grandson, who was grandfather of the Empress Helena, the mother of Constantine, through whose descendants, the emperors of the East, the blood was transmitted to the Plantagenets.

—Bishop Twells broke open the doors of Bishop Colenso's church with sledge-hammers, and then preached a sermon from the text: "Our weapons are not carnal."

—C. V. Culver, of Reno, Pa., formerly member of Congress, whose failure for $4,000,000 caused such commotion, has been fully released by all the Courts, and with heroic purpose has consummated a plan to settle his debts and place his railroad schemes in living condition again.

—Rev. Dr. Beaman, the noted leader of the New School party in 1837, has written a letter to the New York Evangelist in favor of Presbyterian reunion, and denunciatory of the statements of the Princeton Review on that subject.

—Secretary Stanton arrived in New York some days ago to spend a short time with some personal friends.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

☞ HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Flatulent or Windy Colic—These medicines are especially recommended for relieving the oppression frequently experienced after a hearty meal—in fact, they are the dinner Pills—they assist nature in her digestive process, correct all acid, flatulent or bilious tendencies, and by equalizing the circulation prevent a flow of blood to the head. For upwards of fifty years, they have been the only remedies of millions of people for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaints, and all disorders of the stomach and bowels. Sold by all Druggists.

☞ HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT.

BEVERAGE OF HEALTH

Is a beverage particularly adapted to persons of weak and debilitated constitution, and all those who are laboring under dyspepsia, loss of appetite, scrofula, chlorosis, etc., general debility, and derangement of the whole system.

HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT

BEVERAGE OF HEALTH

TAKES THE PLACE OF

And is superior to ale, porter, and spirituous liquors as a remedial agent, and in all cases where slightly stimulative beverages and tonic are needed.

HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT

BEVERAGE OF HEALTH

Is, since the short time of its introduction, already used by the first families of this city, and prescribed by the most eminent physicians, whose approval and encomiums have been bestowed upon this wonderful drink.

Mr. C. P. Wagner, No. 213 Ninth avenue, N. Y., says, when giving a new order:

"Your Malt Extract is not only a very pleasant beverage, but also a very efficacious one, and strengthens the stomach as well as the whole system, and wards off disease."

Hoff's Malt Extract Depot, (for America),

No. 542 Broadway, opposite Barnum's.

Sold by Druggists and Grocers.

CITY MATTERS.

CONSOLIDATION.

Meetings at Stewartstown and Oakland.

Speeches of Col. James M. Cooper, Felix R. Brunot, Esq., Thomas Steel, Esq., and Wm. H. Smith, Esq.

A meeting of the friends and opponents of consolidation was held at Stewartstown, on Saturday evening. The attendance was not so large as had been anticipated, owing to the fact that two political meetings had been called for the same evening in Sharpsburg, still a number of citizens were present, and the best of order was preserved. Martin Loeffer, Esq., presided, and Col. John A. Danks, Edward Eichenlaub, John H. Lloyd and Geo. H. Chalfant acted as Vice Presidents.

COL. JAMES M. COOPER,

Of Allegheny City, was the first speaker. The Colonel commenced his remarks by stating that he was formerly opposed, but was now in favor of Consolidation and would vote for it. In Allegheny there was a class of men who were drones, and who had succeeded in getting rich through the industry and enterprise of others. These men predicted that great evils would result from consolidation, that the taxes would be greatly increased, and that their city would be completely engulphed by Pittsburgh. The speaker did not anticipate any such deplorable results, but believed that should consolidation be effected, it would prove a great and lasting benefit to the community. The Colonel next referred to the manifesto issued by the opponents of the measure, and stated that among the names attached to it was that of James Marshall, Esq., who did not sign it, nor would he have done so had it been presented to him. One of the arguments used against consolidation was that it had proved a failure in Philadelphia. The speaker, a short time since, had a conversation with Mayor McMichaels, of that city, when that gentleman informed him that consolidation had proved a complete success, and that the citizens would not return to the former condition of affairs, even if that were possible. The Colonel referred to the present police force of Allegheny, which he characterized as insufficient—a mere farce—and concluded by stating at length his reasons for wishing to see consolidation effected, and believed that it would be carried by an overwhelming vote.

FELIX R. BRUNOT, ESQ.,

Of Allegheny, was next called upon. He had accepted the invitation to attend the meeting, as he believed consolidation to be a measure for the benefit of the entire community. Whatever he believed, he believed with all his might, and would stand up for in public as in private. He was glad this was a meeting for both sides of the question, and if the opponents could bring arguments to prove him in error, he was willing to change his mind and vote against it. He had been told the people of Stewartstown were opposed to consolidation, but he did not believe they would be deceived by vague assertions, unsupported by arguments or facts—they would decide from reason and not from prejudice. It had been said that the taxes would be quadrupled. In most of the boroughs and townships they are already more than in Pittsburgh. If consolidated, your members of Council will largely outnumber those from Pittsburgh, and the taxes could not be increased unless the outside districts desired it. The present Council of Pittsburgh is a tolerably old fogy, stingy concern, and if they should take an extraordinary fit, which is not very likely, they will be powerless, unless the members from Allegheny, Sharpsburg and elsewhere help them. There was one tax which no right-minded man is afraid of—the school tax. Under one Board of Control the consolidated district could have the best possible schools at a reduced expense. No small district can have a High School unless at great cost, and united in supporting the Pittsburgh High School, it could be made the best in the State. If not consolidated, Allegheny must have a High School at whatever cost, and Sharpsburg and Stewartstown must continue without one. This consideration alone should induce every man who had children to vote for consolidation. You are told that you will be taxed for free bridges—you are taxed now for toll bridges more heavily. The north side pays in tolls over $65,000 per year, while the interest on the bonds for buying all the bridges would be but $10,000, of which the north side share would be one-fourth. The Pittsburgher who has a fine house in Allegheny and a large store in Pittsburgh can afford to pay tolls, but to the man who daily carries his dinner bucket across it is an item of importance. Ere long a bridge will be built opposite Lawrenceville, and it ought to be free. Our opponents point to Philadelphia as an instance of the result of consolidation. How has her debt increased? Each of the twenty or thirty corporations now composing that city had a debt, and they were all thrown together. Eleven millions of that debt was to help on the war and pay bounties. The Mayor of Philadelphia assures us that consolidation works well, and many of its original opponents now agree that they were wrong. The people are contented, and the working man is better off there than in any other city in the world. Our rural friends of Reserve and McClure townships were taken into the city of Allegheny without their consent, and are taxed precisely the same as other parts of the city. By the law, if consolidated, this tax will be reduced to one-third. But how about our rural friends between Allegheny and Sharpsburg. If consolidation carries they will have the same advantage, but if the northern district remains out, the Councils of Allegheny will be sure to do with them as they did with McClure and Reserve, viz: take them in without asking, and tax them the same rates as other parts of the city. Mr. Brunot stated that he was in Philadelphia on the 19th inst., and looking over the hotel registers noticed that there were thirty-one arrivals from Pittsburgh. These persons lived in different parts of the county, but they all registered themselves from Pittsburgh. They were proud of the name when abroad, but labored against it while at home. The speaker concluded his remarks with the hope that consolidation would prove successful.

THOMAS STEEL, ESQ.,

Was the next speaker. He reviewed the question of consolidation at considerable length, and advanced facts and figures proving the benefits that will be derived from it. Mr. Steel's address was to the point, and was listened to with marked attention.

NO OPPONENTS TO CONSOLIDATION PRESENT.

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Steel's remarks, Col. Cooper called upon opponents of the measure who might be present to step forward and address the meeting. There being no response to the invitation, a motion to adjourn was made and carried.

Meeting of the Opponents of Consolidation.

A meeting was held at the Public School House, in Oakland, Saturday evening, in accordance with a call issued several days since, and published in the daily papers of the city, inviting the citizens of Oakland township who were opposed to the consolidation law, to meet and devise such measures as they might deem expedient to defeat said law at the coming election.

About fifty persons were present, and the meeting was called to order at half-past seven o'clock.

Dr. D. Hostetter was elected Chairman, and Wm. H. Smith, Esq., Secretary.

The President stated that all present were probably aware of the object of the meeting, and suggested that the call be read.

On motion of Mr. Dunlap, the call was read by the Secretary. Mr. S. then made a speech on the subject of consolidation, reviewing the matters mentioned in the call. On the question of free bridges the speaker said that the cost to the consolidated city for the bridges and pike, would be seventy-five dollars per head, or a total with a population of 200,000, $1,500,000 (correctly figured $15,000,000). In conclusion he said he would move that persons be appointed to stay at the polls on Tuesday to aid in opposing consolidation.

Mr. Dunlap moved to amend this, and that in place of it every person present who was opposed to the scheme of consolidation be appointed such committee. This motion was submitted and received a decided negative.

Some person in the crowd who had been examining Mr. Smith's figures respecting consolidation, said that at $75 per head, with 200,000 inhabitants, the total cost of the bridges, etc., would be $15,000,000 instead of $1,500,000.

Mr. Smith then said that his figures should have been seven dollars and a half instead of seventy-five dollars. In speaking of seventy-five dollars he meant including families of seven or eight children.

Mr. Dunlap wished to withdraw his amendment, which had been voted down, and give the Chair the power of appointing a committee to be present at the polls. But as his amendment had been lost he was not permitted to withdraw it.

The question was then put by the Secretary. "All opposed to consolidation and in favor of the resolution, please arise." This motion was accompanied by the words "All stand up." Nearly every person present stood up, the yeas being forty-five. No one voted in opposition.

Mr. Dunlap then made a speech against the proposed consolidation bill, after which the meeting adjourned.

MEETING IN BIRMINGHAM.

A meeting for consultation on the subject of consolidation, will be held this evening in the Market Square, Birmingham. Speeches for and against the measure may be expected.

The Wood Street Barricade.

Wood street, between Third and Fifth, presents an appearance that reminds one of the descriptions of the streets of Paris in the days of the revolution, excepting, of course, the bloody features of the story. The stranger would think, judging from appearances, that the citizens in that orderly portion of the city were preparing for a riot, and had engaged a large force of laborers to build fortifications. Huge piles of paving stone, mountains of gravel, everything but cannon and soldiery, would seem to indicate that the city authorities were putting Wood street in a condition to repel a threatened invasion.

The sewer has been completed and the contractors have not replaced the cobble stones.

The merchants, not appreciating the importance of the "situation" in a military sense, last week commenced a warfare against the "powers that be," by posting signs of various descriptions at prominent points where the piles of dirt and gravel were the largest. The following are a few specimen signs selected at random:

"Lost—Wood Street, to be found on the first of January, 1868."

"Place no dirt here—penalty $25."

"This gravel for sale: can remain until January, 1868."

"Guide books over these mountains; for sale at the City Regulator's office."

"Persons are forbidden to block up this street with gravel or cobble stone, under penalty of $50. By order of the City Regulator."

In another quarter some one put up a large board, on which was written an epitaph of a prominent city official. The board was ornamented with a skull and cross-bones, and bore the classic inscription, "Requiescat in pace."

Saturday night the signs all disappeared, and it is not known whether they will be replaced.

Aquatic Sports—Henry Coltart Accepts the Challenge of John Mckiel.

The challenge of John Mckeil, the celebrated oarsman of Cold Spring, New York, to row any man in America a five mile race for one thousand dollars aside, has brought out an acceptance from Henry Coltart, the crack sculler of Manchester. The backers of Coltart, on Saturday afternoon sent on an acceptance to the New York Clipper, accompanying it with a deposit of one hundred dollars to insure the match. The race will be for one thousand dollars aside, and, if agreeable to Mckiel, will take place over the Monongahela river course on Saturday, November 2d, nearly four weeks from the present time. Coltart allowing Mckiel two hundred dollars to defray his expenses. As soon as the preliminaries can be arranged, Coltart will go into proper training for the contest. Coltart, although he has rowed but one single scull race, proved himself in that to be an expert oarsman. Mckiel is no novice at the business, having rowed and won a number of single scull races, and has made most excellent time. If the arrangements can be effected satisfactorily, the sporting community may look for one of the most exciting and closely contested races that has ever taken place here.

Suicide by Hanging.

Coroner Clawson was called upon yesterday afternoon to hold an inquest on the body of George A. Schmidt, a German, who committed suicide at his residence on Spring Garden Run, in Reserve township, by hanging. From the evidence adduced at the inquest, it appears that the deceased was a machinist, and had been greatly depressed for some time past, on account of being unable to procure employment at his trade. He took sick on Saturday, and yesterday afternoon his wife started for the purpose of procuring some medicine. Upon her return home, deceased could not be found, and a search being instituted he was discovered in the garret suspended by the neck to the rafters. He was immediately cut down and a physician sent for, but all efforts to restore consciousness proved unavailing. He was about fifty years of age, and leaves a wife and several children. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts in the case.

PRIZE FIGHT ON COAL HILL.—At an early hour on Saturday morning, two aspirants to pugilistic fame named Tim O'Brien and John Babrink met on the summit of Coal Hill, where they formed a ring and had a little "set-to," under the rules of the P. R. The "battle," which was witnessed by a number of persons who had congregated around the ring, lasted nearly an hour. Four rounds were fought, when O'Brien was declared the victor. It is said that the fight will be renewed next Saturday.

POSTING ON TELEGRAPH POLES.—Mr. S. T. Paisley, Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, has brought suit before Mayor McCarthy against four parties in this city, for disfiguring the telegraph poles by posting bills thereon, contrary to city ordinance.

LOSSES BY FIRE.—A. Grattan Murphy, Esq., Fire Marshal, reports the losses from fire in Allegheny county during the month of September at $6,113, and the insurance $3,015.

MATCH POSTPONED.—The "Muffin" base ball match between the Enterprise and Allegheny "Muffers," has been postponed until next Friday, on account of the weather.

SECOND UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Brief History of the Congregation—Installation of the New Pastor—Interesting Services.

The Second United Presbyterian congregation of this city is one of the oldest and most influential of our religious societies, having had an active existence here for a period of half a century. The society was organized by six families about the year 1817. For some time they worshipped in the old Court House, and many of the leading citizens of that day cast in their lot with them. The charter was obtained on the 22d of December, 1818, and was signed by forty-three members. Of this number, but one survives, Mr. Wm. Graham. The corporate title was "The Associate Reformed Congregation of the City of Pittsburgh." The church grew and flourished as population increased, and when they became strong enough they purchased a suitable lot on Sixth street, at the corner of Cherry alley, and in 1821 erected a building thereon. This edifice was, at that early day, the finest house of worship in the city, and it naturally attracted the attention and patronage of the more wealthy and influential. This marked a new era in the history of the congregation, and its prosperity was of the most gratifying character. Rev. Joseph McElroy, D.D., was the first pastor, and he continued to serve with acceptance for a period of eight or ten years. He was succeeded by Rev. Joseph Kerr, D.D., (father of Rev. D. R. Kerr, D. D., of the United Presbyterian,) who continued to lead the flock while his health permitted. He was succeeded by Rev. Joseph R. Kerr, about the year 1832, who labored with great acceptability and success until his death, which occurred about ten or eleven years after his installation. (This worthy minister was the father of Rev. Joseph R. Kerr, of the Third United Presbyterian Church, Allegheny.) The congregation continued for some time without a settled pastor, but the pulpit was ably filled by Rev. D. R. Kerr, who sustained a quasi pastoral relationship to the congregation until a regular pastor was called in 1846. Rev. John F. McLaren, D. D., was duly installed in that year, and ably and successfully discharged his pastoral duties until his resignation in 1851. The congregation was again without a pastor for a long period, several unsuccessful attempts having been made to select a successor. Rev. John Ekin, D. D., was finally chosen in 1854, and continued in charge until 1857. Rev. James Prestley, D. D., was installed in 1858, and under his ministry the congregation flourished until the unhappy circumstances which led to his retirement.

THE PRESENT BUILDING.

The old church, with its "grand galleries all around," became antiquated in course of time, and soon after Dr. McLaren was chosen pastor the congregation began to discuss the propriety of rebuilding. At a congregational meeting held on the 28th of July, 1847, it was resolved to rebuild, "owing to the condition of the present building, and the expectation of the filling up of Sixth street and Cherry alley." Plans were prepared by Mr. J. H. McClelland, builder, and the cost was estimated by him at $7,000. It was not until June 6th, 1848, that a contract was entered into with Mr. George Thompson, of Allegheny, to erect the new edifice, the contract price being $7,475. On the 11th of the same month the congregation took a "sorrowful farewell" of the old church, and on the 22d of October of the same year they returned to the basement of the new edifice. On January 7th, 1849, the new church was dedicated, the services being conducted by the pastor, Dr. McLaren, and by Rev. D. R. Kerr. The congregation had then been organized thirty years, and it had given origin to no less than six other churches. It was justly denominated "the mother of churches" at that day. The building was plain but substantial, and has not undergone much change. It has a front of sixty-six feet on Sixth street, and extends eighty-three feet along Cherry alley. It has capacity to seat about one thousand persons.

After the union of the Associate and Associate Reformed churches, which was consummated in 1858, the congregation took the name of the Second United Presbyterian Church, which it still retains. The congregation now embraces a membership of about four hundred.

THE NEW PASTOR.

Some time since a congregational meeting was held, and a call extended to Rev. Thomas Hanna, of the Philadelphia Presbytery. Mr. Hanna accepted the call, and at the late meeting of the Monongahela Presbytery he was received as a member, and ministers appointed to conduct his installation, which was fixed for Sabbath evening last. Mr. Hanna is a young man, has a wife and family, and has recently had charge of a congregation in Philadelphia. He has a large and important field of labor before him, and comes highly commended for efficiency and zeal in the ministerial work.

THE INSTALLATION SERVICES.

The new pastor was installed last evening and the services were very interesting. The church was crowded, seats and benches being placed in the aisles.

The services commenced by the singing of the one hundredth psalm by the congregation.

Rev. Mr. Boyd made the opening prayer and then delivered the installation sermon, selecting for his text 1st Corinthians, 1st chapter and 15th verse.

The discourse was devoted to the consideration of the duties and responsibilities of the ministry, and the harmonious relations which should exist between pastor and people.

Rev. S. B. Reed conducted the installation ceremonies, reading the prescribed questions to the new pastor, all of which were answered affirmatively.

The questions for the congregation were then answered by the members.

Rev. W. J. Reid addressed the pastor, speaking principally of the duties of a clergyman to his people. The pulpit was not the only place from which the truth should be preached, but Ministers should proclaim the truth at all times, and under all circumstances. The duties of a pastor were to live a consistent life, attend to his studies, and look carefully after the interests of his people. It was not the duty of the clergyman to preach politics, but in a great national crisis, when men attempt to break up the nation, it was the duty of the ministry to denounce them. Men might call this political preaching, but it was preaching that was just. The address was attentively listened to.

Rev. Mr. Calhoun delivered the address to the congregation. It was with more than ordinary feelings he addressed them, for it was an important occasion. The congregation he was addressing was one of the oldest in the city, and had increased with its prosperity; during a period of fifty years it had been one of the most prosperous in the city and enjoyed the ministry of men who had generally been recognized as men of power; the services to-night might be regarded as an event in their ecclesiastical history. The obligations of the people to sustain the pastor in his arduous duties were then discussed, and all were exhorted to aid him in his great work by all the means in their power.

At the close of the above mentioned address, the elders of the church were invited to come forward and receive a formal introduction to the pastor. After the singing of the one hundred and thirty-second Psalm the Benediction was pronounced by the newly installed pastor.

Invisible Poisons.

The Medicis and the Borgias fortified their system with powerful antidotes against the subtle poisons with which they used to destroy their enemies, and which they feared might one day be employed against themselves. There are invisible poisons, almost as deadly, against which few of us think of taking any precautions. These banes are in the air. When the atmosphere is surcharged with them, as it sometimes is at this season, epidemic fevers ensue. The summer which has just closed has been a most remarkable one. The amount of rain that has fallen has been enormous, and the exhalations from the soil have been, and are, dense and copious almost beyond example. These exhalations exercise a pernicious influence on the vital powers, and predisposes the system to disease. Everywhere people are complaining of unusual debility, lassitude and depression. The symptoms are generally forerunners of an epidemic. Combat them early—before they lapse into something worse—with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most effective antidote to malaria that the vegetable kingdom has ever yielded. Its operation is three-fold—invigorating, depurative and antibilious. Free from any ingredient that is in the slightest degree deleterious to health, and containing the juices and extracts of the rarest medicinal herbs, it is immeasurably superior, as a defensive preparation, to any other tonic, herbal or mineral, at present used in medical practice. A course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is, humanely speaking, a perfect safeguard against intermittent and remittent fevers.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

SATURDAY EVENING, October 5th, 1867.

The past week has been a severe one on borrowers. Excessive closeness has characterized the discount market, and brokers, as well as private capitalists, though the brokers had no trouble in placing their money on pretty much their own terms. The banks were not expected to afford much assistance to the market, as this was "quarter week," and no outsiders were presumptuous enough to apply for any accommodations from that quarter. In New York the Times remarks that the Bank "Quarter Day" made a severe twist upon the money market to-day, as anticipated from the appearance of the demand from the brokers yesterday. We have seldom, of late years, witnessed a more general eagerness to borrow cash balances over the day, and this demand was kept up in some quarters till nearly four o'clock in the afternoon. In their great anxiety, real or affected, to appear strong on their Quarterly Statement, some of the Banks not only called in their loans and plead poverty to their needy dealers, but urged their heavy dealers among the brokers to leave over their balances in place of lending the money to their neighbors of the Stock Exchange.

—Governments in the New York market continue depressed. The offerings are large both from the country and from city banks and foreign brokers; a partial set off to the weakness from this cause arose from a recent purchase of two millions of Seven-thirties by the Government. The condition of affairs in Italy, and the fall of Five-twenties at London to 71¾, have a depressing effect upon the market. Considerable uneasiness is felt among foreign dealers in bonds as to the effects which might follow a rupture between the Governments of France and Italy. At the same time the late letter of General Butler relative to the payment of United States bonds in currency keeps alive the sensitiveness upon that question, and among foreign houses is unfavorable to the value of bonds.

The Philadelphia Ledger observes on this point that there are those, however, who think the decline of Government securities abroad as well as at home, is more justly attributed to the folly and wickedness of certain prominent politicians who sow the seeds of universal distrust by even talking in favor of repudiation of the public debt. The intercourse of New York with Europe is hourly, and every word spoken here favoring a violation of good faith in maintaining coin payments on our funded obligations, tells immediately on the National credit, and the more disastrously, the farther the point from home at which the dishonest intimation overtakes holders of our securities. Nothing is so cowardly as capital, and for foreign holders to hear the names of men prominent in the affairs of the nation associated with repudiation, is to make sellers of the loans, and the sending home and sale of bonds means the taking away of gold. Though the shipments of specie are not large, the present tendency of the gold market will soon make them so, a fact that can not fail to aggravate present financial embarrassments.

—Stocks are reported as remarkably steady considering the extreme stringency in the money market. At the first board, transactions were large, about on the basis of yesterday evening's figures. Between boards there was a temporary flagging of prices, but a strong rally on the part of the "bulls," and an uproarious bidding in the street and in the Long Room had the effect of keeping up the market. The "game" of the "bulls" appears to have been to draw out a short interest, but their opponents were cautious, and do not appear to have responded to the feint.

—Mining shares at the Boston Stock Board generally continue to look well. A further advance in the price of copper would be acceptable, but some of the mines appear to be able to disregard that contingency, being in a condition to make satisfactory profits even at a decline from present prices. Copper Falls to-day sold up to 29, an improvement of 1 on the advance of yesterday. Hancock also seems to be quietly creeping up to-day, reaching 11¼, the last regular sale being at 11. Concord sold at 3. Pewabic was ¼ better. Hecla sold at 35. Allouez was steady at 3¼ on sales of 700 shares.

The following were the closing prices for the principal mining shares: Allouez, 3¼@3½; Bay State, ½@2¼; Calumet, 35 offered; Concord, 2@3; Copper Falls, 28½@28¾; Dana, 1 asked; Franklin, 17¾@18; Hancock 10¾@11; Hanover, ¾@¾; Hecla, 35@37; Humboldt, 1 offered; Isle Royal, 2½ offered; Minnesota, 4½ offered; Petherick, ¾@1; Pewabic, 13½@14¾; Phœnix, 2@3; Pittsburgh, 25 asked; Quincy, 26@27½; Rockland, ass't paid, 7@7½; South Side, ¾@1; Star, ¼@¾; St. Clair, 2 offered; Superior, 1½@2; Winthrop, ¾@1.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE OIL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY October 30, 1867.

BUSINESS—The market during the week has passed through various changes; for instance, one day oil was hunting purchasers at a decline, whilst the next day the reverse was the situation of affairs. The long spell of low water in the Allegheny has been a serious drawback with parties that have sold crude for certain time delivery. As relates to prices they were very changeable. The week's receipts of crude were 2,850 barrels from all points against 2,050 last week, being an increase of 500 barrels; for the same week in 1866 the river receipts were 47,286 barrels—a big difference. The exports of refined East, this week, amount to 14,016 barrels; last week 18,960 barrels, being a falling off amounting to 4,934 barrels. The week's sales of crude were 24,787 barrels; last week 6,672, being an increase this week of 18,115 barrels. This week's sales of refined were 34,000 barrels; last week 17,000 barrels, being an increase of just 17,000 barrels. The total increase this week over last of crude and refined amounts to 35,115 barrels. The entire receipts of crude oil from all points from January 1st to October 5th amount to 664,506 barrels; for the same period in 1866 the receipts were 920,786 barrels, showing a deficiency of 256,280 barrels.

The following is a condensed account of the week's operations in crude. The market at present is very bare of the raw material. Most of the transactions consist of re-sales, the purchaser paying the difference in cash. A rise in the Allegheny would produce lively times among the oil men; besides it would put afloat a large amount of money that has been locked up waiting the moving of the waters.

Monday—The market opened dull. The demand was limited and sales were of a similar description. 3,800 bbls were disposed of on the spot at 12½@13½c ℔ gallon for a gravity of 41.

Tuesday—The market was without animation. The sales reported were 1,000 bbls spot at 13½c ℔ gallon.

Wednesday—The demand improved. The sales reach 5,000 bbls bulk, first water, at 12½c; spot oil from tank at 13½c.

Thursday—We have nothing new to notice. The day's sales reached 4,225 bbls. Spot oil sold at 13½@14c. The latter was the highest figure reached this season.

Friday—Prices were not so firm. The sales were 8,500 bbls, in lots, first water, at 12c; all the year 12c, and for October and November 13c was the ruling figure.

Saturday—The market was very firm for both descriptions. The Eastern and European news was favorable for holders. The Philadelphia market was quoted at prime light straw to white at 33½@34c; standard white 35c ℔ gal; crude 18½@19c. New York—The reports were prime light straw to white 33c; standard white 34c; crude 19½@20c ℔ gal. Oil City dispatches state that buyers were offering $4 10@4 20 ℔ barrel.

CRUDE—The operations in this market were as follows: Sales 1,000 bbls bulk, in tank, to be delivered in bulk boats at buyer's landing, at 14c. Sales of 2,500 bbls, a resale of contract, deliverable at buyer's option at any time during 1867 and 1868, at 15c; being a resale of contract, the difference paid in cash. Sales 500 bbls bulk, first Allegheny rise, at 12½c. Sales 2,500 bbls, October, seller's option, at 13½c, being a resale of contract, the difference paid in cash. The receipts of crude were 1,006 bbls.

REFINED OIL—Antwerp was quoted at 57½ francs. This news strengthened the market. The market being bare of oil the only business done was resales of contracts. The operations reached 5,000 barrels, as follows: 4,500 bbls standard white, October, Philadelphia, buyer's option, 36c; 500 bbls do, same terms, time and conditions. Other lots were under negotiation but had not been consummated when we left the market.

PHILADELPHIA.

The market has been rather dull, but prices have advanced. Small sales of crude at 19@19½c; 25,000 bbls of refined, in bond, at 33@34c for prime light straw to white, and 35@35½c for standard white. Free oil sells in small lots at 45@50c ℔ gal. The receipts during the week were 3,756 bbls crude and 10,645 bbls refined. The exports were 394,733 gal refined and 108,652 gal crude. Sixteen vessels are now chartered and loading. Total export since January 1, 1867, 21,737,053 gal, against 18,805,422 gal same time last year.

NEW YORK.

The demand for crude says the Commercial List, of Saturday last, continues moderate, but the market has ruled quite steady, and closes at 14@14½c in bulk; the sales are 500 barrels, 40@47 gravity, in bulk, at 14c; 1,300 do. low gravity, at 14½@15c and 300 do in shipping order at 19½c. Refined in bond was dull and depressed on Wednesday and Thursday; but yesterday an active export demand sprung up, and large sales were made, the market closing firm at 34c for S W; the sales for the three days are 100 barrels P I S to W at 31c; 9,500 do S W, at 33@33½c; 6,500 do on private terms; 1,000 do P W, 34c; 1,000 do S W, for October, at 35c, B O; and 500 do, November, 35½c, B O. Free is dull and we have no sales to report.

Oil City Oil Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

OIL CITY, October 5, 1867.

The market is dull and inactive. Oil is offered freely at $4 10, with no buyers.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY EVENING, October 5, 1867.

During the past week business has generally been dull and prices without much change. The telegraph reports higher rates for flour and grain, and holders have stiffened their rates, and are looking forward for high rates ruling this winter. The principal cause attributed for this advancing tendency is the increasing export demand for Europe, as crops in that part of the world are said to be remarkably short, while our own crops, although large, are coming upon the markets, which are comparatively bare of old stock. Buyers and sellers are moving very cautiously, with no disposition to incur fresh obligations involving large amounts of capital.

The receipts of some of the leading articles of produce per river and rail, since our last, were as follows: Flour 802 bbls; apples 154 bbls; cheese 190 bxs; corn 1,580 sacks; wheat 782 sacks; rye 216 sacks; oats 1,539 sacks, and butter 77 pkgs.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices, unless otherwise noted:

BUTTER—We are glad to announce that receipts are increasing and larger than the demand and prices lower. Fresh packed tubs may be quoted at 30c ℔ lb.

EGGS—We quote at 20c ℔ doz.

BACON—There is not as much doing as has been reported for some time past, and we quote at 14½@15c for shoulders; 16½@17c for rib sides, and 18½c for clear sides; 24@25c for sugar cured hams; 17½@18c for plain hams, and 15c for lard. Sales of country lard were made at 11½@14½c ℔ lb.

MESS PORK—We quote at $24 50 ℔ bbl.

LARD OIL—We quote No. 1 lard oil at $1 15, and No. 2 at 90@95c ℔ gal.

CHEESE—We quote Western Reserve at 14@15c; Hamburg at 14c; Goshen at 17@18c, and Sweitzer at 18@20c ℔ lb.

CRANBERRIES—Sales reported of cultivated at $14 ℔ bbl.

POTATOES—Choice Irish potatoes may be quoted at 90c ℔ bush, and Jersey sweets at $5 00@5 50 ℔ bbl.

APPLES—Prices are nominal, ranging from $2 25@4 00, as to quality.

SEED—Sales reported of 1 car flaxseed at $2 50, while small lots sold at $2 65@2 75 ℔ bush. Sales of timothy seed from first hands at $2 60, and in large lots from store at $2 65@2 75, and in a retail way at $3 00 ℔ bush.

HAY—Sales reported at the city scales at $15 00@20 00 ℔ ton, from country wagons.

ASHES—Sales noted of soda ash at 5c; refined at 5½c, and pearls at 13c ℔ lb.

WHEAT—Receipts small and we only note sales of 2 cars red winter at $2 35 ℔ bushel.

RYE—We note sales of 2 cars delivered at $1 35 and 1,200 bushels do at $1 40 ℔ bushel. Market active.

CORN—We note sales of 96 sacks corn, shelled and ear, at the depot, at $1 28, and 2 cars in Elevator at $1 27, F. O. B.

OATS—Market dull. Sales reported of 300 bush at the depot at 66c; 1 car, buyer furnishing sacks, at 68c, and 1 car, depot, at 68c ℔ bush.

BARLEY—Sales noted of 400 bush from wagons at $1 25, and 150 bush from store at $1 30 ℔ bush.

FLOUR—Flour continues active and advancing. It is difficult to give correct prices, and we quote the following brands: Golden Fleece (white winter), $12 50; Jenkins's Eclipse, $11 00@12 25; Jenkins's Lilly Mills, $11; Sears's, Best, Desplaines, Farina and Clarke & Alden's, etc., $10 50@10 75 ℔ bbl.

Provision Circular.

From the latest provision circular of George W. Phillips, of Cincinnati, we learn, that during the first four days of the past week the market for provisions remained as reported one week ago, flat and dull, with but little stuff pressing. But during the past two days there has been a reaction—especially in bulk and bacon—the stock of all kinds of cut meats being light at all Western points, has attracted the attention of both speculators and regular dealers, and it being quite evident to their minds that the entire stock must be consumed long before any can get new, they have taken about all to be had, at prices named below. The market closes very firm, and it is difficult to buy bacon except at an advance over quoted rates.

MESS PORK—Has been quiet all the week, with a moderate trade demand, at $24, and at the close holders were disposed to advance their views and it would be difficult to buy round lots at quotation.

LARD—Owing to the advance in gold and the advances in Liverpool, has been in good demand all the week, with large sales, closing firm at 14½c for city. Keg is held at 15c but not saleable over tierce price, advices from Liverpool report the entire stock there at 200 tons.

BULK MEATS—Ruled dull during the early part of the week, and sales of shoulders and sides were made at 12@14c, loose, but at these prices buyers were more plenty than sellers, and all to be had were sold at the close 13½@15c are the lowest asking prices—there are no bulk sides seen except what are now going into smoke.

BACON—Also, was a drug early in the week, but an investigation of the stocks, which proves to be over 2,000,000 lbs all told of both bulk and bacon, including hams, there was a better feeling manifested, and Baltimore, St. Louis and Louisville came in and took all the odd lots offered at the low rates. To-day the market closes firm at 14c for shoulders 17@18½c for clear rib and clear sides, with a prospect for further advances. Plain hams 18@20c, S. C. 24@25c. The stock of bulk and bacon meats is divided here as follows, by the closest estimate that can be made: 350,000 lbs bulk shoulders, 500,000 lbs bacon do; 450,000 lbs C. R. bacon sides, 450,000 lbs do clear sides, all of which, with an ordinary demand, would be used up in three weeks.

PLATE BEEF—Firmer at $22.

DRIED BEEF—18c.

IRON.

NEW YORK.

A very cheerful tone prevails in all markets, says the Iron Age, and the tendency is to greater steadiness of price. The works in almost all sections from which we hear, are well at work, and in some cases the demand exceeds the supply. The upward tendency of gold has, of course, its favorable influence upon domestic iron.

It ought not to be necessary to the prosperity of an American iron maker that the national credit should be at a discount, but so the government has made it. If gold is at a large premium, then iron can be sold at a profit, but if it descends much below its present point, then can the British come in at prices that render its production unprofitable.

In New York the market has been quiet during the past week, but without material change. Pig is in very moderate demand. Bar from store is steady at rates quoted. We notice the sale of 150 tons Belgian rail at $86, currency. We append the following report:

Ingot Copper has sold as low as 25½c for Baltimore (old make); Portage Lake, 26@26½c; Detroit, 26½@27c.

Pig Iron—Scotch is quotable at $42 50 for Glengarnock; $42 00@42 50 for Eglinton, and $41 00 for Gartsherrie and Coltness from ship for whole lots; demand moderate.

Pig Iron—American No. 1 extra $44 00@45 00; No. 2 extra, $40 00@41 00 for best brands; forge irons, $35 00@40 00.

Lead—Quiet at $6 50@6 75, gold, for whole lots from ship; $9 50@9 75, currency, from store.

Spelter—$6 00@6 62, gold, for whole lots; $9 00@9 50, currency, from store.

Tin—Banca 27c; Straits 25½@26c; English 24c, gold, for whole lots; store lots, 30@½c; Banca, 27½c for Straits, 35¼c for English; currency.

Antimony—15c currency.

PHILADELPHIA.

Foundry iron is in fair demand; small sales at $45 for No. 1, $39 00@40 00 for No. 2, and $36 00@38 00 for forge. Scotch pig is quoted at $43 00@45 00 ℔ ton. Blooms continue in fair demand; we quote at $170 00@195 00 ℔ ton. Manufactured iron is firmly held.

RIVER TELEGRAMS.

Steamer Ella Faber Sunk.

LOUISVILLE, October 6.—The steamer Ella Faber, from Louisville for Henderson, Ky., sunk near Cannelton yesterday. The boat was valued at $15,000, and was insured in Louisville offices. The boat can be raised. No lives lost.

Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, October 5.—The river is stationary with twenty-eight inches in the canal.

RIVER NEWS.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—Business was confined altogether to the upper landing. The low water boats are still making regular trips to Brownsville. The Active leaves to-day at 8 A. M. for the above points. The Monitor No. 2 left on Saturday with all the freight she could manage. Navigation is becoming very difficult even in the slackwater.

PASSING AWAY.—Captain James Smith, of the steamer Robert E. Lee, died at New Orleans on the morning of the 4th inst., of yellow fever.

THE first steamboat which ever visited Chattanooga, was the Atlas, an old boat from the Ohio river, which arrived there in 1828, when this point was known as Ross' Landing.

LOUISVILLE, October 4.—The river is about at a stand, with twenty-six inches in the canal; depth out over the bar is from twenty-five to thirty inches. There was a heavy rain north of here yesterday. None here.

MOBILE.—The Times, of the 1st, says: Mr. L. A. Jones, clerk of the Osceola, died yesterday at the Providence Infirmary. Mr. Jones was a native of Rising Sun, Indiana, and has only been South about three months, having come out on the Osceola.

CAIRO, October 4.—Port list: Louisa, Evansville packet, 2 P. M.; Graham, Paducah packet, 4 P. M.; Arabian, St. Louis to Johnsonville, 11 P. M.; Chattanooga, Evansville packet, 9 A. M.; Cora S., Louisville to Memphis, 9 A. M.

The sternwheel steamer, R. M. Bishop, sunk July 15, 1867, between Omaha and Sioux City. The clerk, Mr. John L. Monfort, has been missing since that date, and any information as to his fate or whereabouts will be of great satisfaction to his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Monfort, now living in Richmond, Wayne county, Indiana.

LOUISVILLE STILL UNHAPPY.—The Journal of Tuesday has the following: Up to a late hour yesterday evening, the long-prayed-for rain had not fallen, but we were in strong hopes that we would be able to report a good shower at least in to-morrow's issue. We need it badly, as our streets are filled shoe-top deep with dust from one end to the other.

ST. LOUIS, October 4.—Joseph Fay, clerk of the McGill, died yesterday as the boat touched the wharf, from New Orleans. He was aged twenty-three years and a native of Astoria, New York. There are forty inches water in the Missouri between St. Joseph and Omaha, and the Isabella is aground at Rockport. The river here is stationary. It will probably rise from the heavy rains. There were fifteen arrivals and thirteen departures yesterday. Receipts and shipments heavy.

MEMPHIS, October 4.—The weather to-day has been cloudy, with rain this evening. The channel between here and Cairo is improving. The packets report five feet on the bars. The J. S. McCune passed up for Cairo at 6 P. M., and the Cornelia, for St. Louis, at 7 P. M. The Bee and Mohawk, with barges, arrived this afternoon. The Mohawk left for New Orleans. The Bee returned to St. Louis. The Norman is aground at Phillips's Bar and the Louisiana at Island 34. The Arkansas continues low, with twenty-six inches in the channel. There is three and a half feet in White river.

CAIRO, October 4.—The Arabian, from St. Louis to Tennessee river was well laden. The Cora S. brought 100 barrels of potatoes and 25 tons of sundries for New Orleans, added 70 tons for Memphis, and has discharged 100 tons of way freight. The Chattanooga brought 250 sacks of corn and a lot of sundries for below; also, five tons of merchandise received from the Bertha, for Little Rock. The Bertha is still at Shawneetown. Her barges are aground. The Paducah packet brought eight hogsheads of tobacco for New Orleans and three for New York. The river fell two inches to-day. The weather is cloudy, with lightning in the north. Mercury 70 degrees.

CINCINNATI.—Saturday's Gazette, on the situation, says:

The weather was cool during the forenoon of yesterday, with clouds that indicated more rain. At noon, however, the clouds passed away, and the sun appeared, so that the afternoon was delightfully pleasant.

Business continues dull, because it could not be otherwise. If freights were ever so plenty, tonnage is scarce. All boats running do a good business.

By the marks at the Water Works, the river has been stationary here for forty-eight hours, notwithstanding the recent heavy rains, which extended as far up as Maysville, and perhaps farther. We have no change to note in the stage of water above, while we give it at Medoc this morning at thirty-three inches.

SATURDAY'S Cincinnati Enquirer says: Captain Richmond will arrive from Pittsburgh this morning, and, in company with first clerk VanWyck, leave for St. Louis this evening. He will load the New York at St. Louis for New Orleans.

Some fifty emigrants from Virginia left on the mail boat yesterday on their way South.

Capt. Keniston, of the Rob Roy, left for Evansville last evening.

There is some talk of the owners of the Blue Wing buying the Major Anderson to place her in the Madison trade.

The flags on the wharf and on the boats in port yesterday were at half mast out of respect to Mr. Benjamin Davidson, whose funeral took place from his late residence in Newport at one o'clock.

Mr. John Spencer, formerly of the Swallow, arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday.

Capt. Marsh Clark takes command of the Success, for Cairo.

ST. LOUIS.—The Democrat on the situation says: Steamboating hence to New Orleans has not been very profitable of late. Boatmen would be surprised to learn that any of the trips of the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company's tow-boats made lately, resulted in profit. The Virginia was yesterday out from this port for New Orleans, eight days, and we don't know that she was further down than ten miles below Memphis. The round trip will occupy thirty days. The trip must end in considerable loss to the owners. A boat for New Orleans lately returned, paid the crew for twenty-two days, and her total receipts from all sources, freight and passengers, on the round trip, amounted to $8,500, and had thirty passengers and four hundred and fifty tons on board on leaving New Orleans. If that boat's daily expenses averaged four hundred dollars, a moderate estimate, it will be seen that no profits were left. If there be any person or association, desiring to charter a steamer or steamers, are referred to the following partial list of laid up boats in this vicinity: Richmond, City of Alton, Belle St. Louis, Lady Gay, Ruth, Julia, Kilgour, Minnie, Viola Belle, Victory, Gold Finch, Henry Ames, City of Cairo, Centralia, New York, War Eagle, Agnes, G. A. Thompson, Sam. Gaty, Mississippi, Belle of Pike, Illinois, City of Pekin, Pauline Carroll, Kate Hart, Peoria City, Lacon, Big Horn, Helena. We desire it understood, however, that some of the above boats can not be chartered, being merely set aside until the rivers shall have risen. Yesterday the Jennie Lewis arrived from Miami, Sucker State, Rob Roy and Kate Kearney, from Upper Mississippi, Luminary, from New Orleans, circus boat Coosa, from the Missouri, Gold Finch, from Hampton, and McPike from Quincy. Capt. Dalzell, an old St. Louis boatman, brought the Finch here after an absence of about five months. The Bertrand and Ruemory left for the Upper Mississippi; Cora and Walter Dance for the Missouri; City of Cairo, Shreve and Tacony for Davenport, and McPike for Keokuk. The St. Louis and Miami Packet Company organized as a Joint Stock Association, under a recently-obtained Illinois charter, have purchased the three following steamers: Clara, from Charles S. Rogers, W. Gould and Samuel Rider, for the consideration of five hundred shares stock of said company, September 21. Post Boy, from James Adams, C. S. Rogers, T. B. Chipley, F. W. Gould and S. Rider, for $20,000. Jennie Lewis, from N. F. Constant, Wm. W. Afer, Henry McPherson, C. W. Sombart and Julius Sombart, for $20,000, September 20. Walker & Hancock have sold to the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company, barges W. and H., Nos. 1 and 2, for $6,000 and $5,000 respectively. Charles A. Norris, September 14, sold one-fourth of the Holston, for $1,750, to James Mathews. The bills of sale in the matter of Peoria City and Sam. Gaty, have been executed and acknowledged, the owners having made an exchange of boats, as previously reported. Captain John Tatum will bring the Big Horn to this side of the river to-day. The Henry Ames will leave for New Orleans this morning. Captains Carter, Bartle and others have sold out the Ned. Tracy to Captain John G. Copelin. Captain John T. Dorum, Missouri river pilot, has abandoned the river and is now associated with Finney & McGrath, carpet dealers.

AND
GRAND
Presentation Enterprise
HAS PROVEN
A WONDERFUL SUCCESS
CAPITAL, TICKETS AND PRIZES
INCREASED FROM
$1,287,148 to $1,500,000

Making this the most Stupendous and Successful Presentation Scheme ever inaugurated in the World.

Our Agents have received orders for over 100,000 Tickets more than our original issue, and the Managers being desirous of filling the orders and supplying the demand, have decided to increase the tickets from 1,287,148 to 1,500,000.

The Committee appointed at the first Concert have decided to distribute the Prizes at the third and last Concert, which will take place at

IRVING HALL
IN NEW YORK CITY,
ON
Thursday, Oct. 24th, 1867.
TICKETS ONE DOLLAR EACH.
A Prize with Every Ticket.

PROSPECTUS.

A number of the leading Bankers and Merchants of New York, in consideration of the great success which has attended many of the Charitable Presentation Entertainments of the day, have formed themselves into a company, with the view of inaugurating an enterprise which, while it shall return them a fair profit, shall offer greater advantages to ticket-purchasers than any yet presented; and which being conducted upon a perfectly legitimate and business basis, shall be free from those objectionable features which have characterized many of these enterprises.

To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets, and the registering of the same, to Clark, Webster & Co., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the Grand Presentation Entertainment, and which are to be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of presents.

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince even the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the Commercial and Financial standing of the Company, and the Managers and Bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guaranty of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with the scheme will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket-holders will be most strictly watched over and guarded. In fact, it is the desire of the Managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest.

THE BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' FIRST GRAND CONCERT was given at Irving Hall, July 4th. The Second Grand Concert was given August 24th, both of them proving a grand success. The mammoth hall was filled with the most respectable citizens of New York. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading Bankers and Merchants to examine the register of tickets and satisfy themselves of the correctness of the registration before making the grand distribution of prizes on the 24th of October.

Important to Parties Desiring Tickets.

1st. There are but few remaining unsold. Those wishing to be supplied with tickets must order at once.

2d. The distribution of prizes will positively take place on the 24th of October, 1867.

3d. As the books will be closed immediately on the sale of the last ticket, for the purpose of the registration being examined by the Committee, it is important that we should receive orders at the very earliest moment.
